PRESIDENT PREPARES FIGHTING SPEECH FOR DETROIT

Hoover Leaves Capitol Tonight On Detroit Trip

Prepares Blistering Reply To Roosevelt For Detroit Address

NEW YORK FINANCES MAY BE DISCUSSED

President To Stop In West Virginia And Ohio Enroute To Michigan

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Nettled by Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt's charges of "fiscal mismanagement" in national finances, President Hoover worked today on a speech which his advisers said would constitute a blistering reply to the Democratic candidate. It will be delivered tomorrow night in Detroit.

In his Cleveland speech last week Mr. Hoover for the first time assailed Gov. Roosevelt's policies, and in his Detroit speech tomorrow night it is understood he will carry this attack even further.

Familiar With N. Y. Finances.

In the preparation of his speech, Mr. Hoover has had the assistance of Secretary of the Treasury Ogden L. Mills and State Senator George R. Fearon, Republican leader of the senate in New York. Both are familiar with the finances of New Benches have not yet been removed from the Public Square which resulted in a place for a large number of persons to sit down and while away some of the hours of today. The weather was warm and the benches could be occupied with comfort.

Pa Newc observed a motorist travel the entire length of Sycamore alley between Mercer and East streets yesterday afternoon, completely ignoring the one-way traffic signs which are quite noticeable. Motorists called his attention to the fact that he was in wrong, as he caused several small traffic snarls, but he kept right on going.

An East Brook cow chose a rather odd place to lie down for a nap the other day. It meant that a motorist had to slow down to about five miles an hour and detour around him! The cow was soon moved from the highway by a young fellow on horseback who had come to fetch him home.

A local lady, having heard so many people enthuse about the lovely mushrooms to be found just now, made a trip to the country, Wednesday evening and picked about two pounds of the luscious looking things. Arriving home she was tactifully informed that they were not mushrooms but toadstools.

REYNOLDS, FAMILY WANTS CASE DROPPED

By JOSEPH COWAN
International News Service Special Correspondent

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., Oct. 21.—There can be no question about the desire of the Reynolds family to have the state of North Carolina drop the prosecution of Libby and Ab Walker as quickly as possible. And they want to have it dropped for all time.

Both W. N. Reynolds, Smith's uncle and guardian, and Dick Reynolds, the dead boy's brother, today convinced me of that.

If the murder indictment is nolle prossed, the Reynolds family will take no part in any further investigation. They are not interested in the procedure Solicitor Higgins might adopt in dropping the case.

If he should decide to impanel a jury and then nolle prosse the charge for lack of evidence, that suits Smith's relatives. This method of course, would constitute jeopardy under the law and Libby could never be prosecuted thereafter.

That would be quite all right with the family. They would like nothing better than to have the whole thing disposed of forever and as speedily as possible.

"My brother is dead and nothing can change that," said Dick. "A careful investigation has failed to produce sufficient evidence to prove he was murdered. So what is the use of going on with it? The sooner it is ended and forgotten, the better."

Woman Tells About Terrifying Details As Chinese Captive

Mrs. Kenneth Pawley, Relates Treatment At Hands Of Chinese Bandits

"Displayed Real Courage" Says Charles Corkran, Lived In Filth, Always Threatened

NEWCHWANG, Manchuria, Oct. 21.—Seated in her father's house, dressed in pajamas and calmly smoking a cigarette, Mrs. Kenneth Pawley related in detail to International News Service today the horrible and terrifying experiences she underwent at the hands of brutal Chinese bandits who held her and Charles Corkran captives for more than six weeks.

Mrs. Pawley and Corkran, both British subjects, were treated "worse than dogs", they revealed, being constantly threatened with death and torture in addition to exposure to great physical hardships.

Formed Suicide Pact

Mrs. Pawley revealed she and Corkran formed a suicide pact by which each would help the other to death in case the bandits attempted to put into effect their oft-threatened torture plans.

"We would lay side by side quietly discussing our future each night," she said. "We decided on an air of brovado, agreeing to help each other kill ourselves in case torture was attempted.

"When couriers began to arrive we were cheered up some, although some of them were bandits spies and we were never quite sure about them ourselves.

Torture Threatened

"Every time we received a letter the bandits would crowd our hut threatening death unless we trans-

Evidence Against Insull Brothers Is Given To Governor

Governor Of Illinois Will Requisition For Presidential Warrant To Get Insulls

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Affidavits, summarizing the evidence on the basis of which the Insull brothers, Samuel and Martin, were indicted were ready for signatures in criminal court today.

The documents, to be used in the battle to extradite Samuel Insu[ll] from Greece and his brother fro[m] Canada, will be signed by witnesses who testified before the grand jury which indicted the fugitives on embezzlement and larceny charges in connection with the crash of the $2,000,000,000 Insull utilities chain.

After the signatures are affixed the affidavits are to be taken to Springfield where a governor's requisition for presidential warrants will be sought.

WILL ROGERS says:

(Special To The News)

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 21.—Well, had a great day today. Saw the real Argentine gauchos do their stuff right out on one of the big estancias. We flew out to this big ranch. This whole country is a landing field. Had some of the American polo players along.

Those bolos that you hear about 'em throwing, they use for ostriches. We chased ostriches all afternoon. They are the fastest things I ever saw run.

I never got close enough to one to even holler at him. Got the bolos tangled up around my own neck. These gauchos are sure wild.

It's the most fertile country I ever saw and has the most cattle and horses per acre in the world.

Wurtemburg Bridge Contract Awarded

Cline Construction Company Of Butler Will Start Work On Project Soon

Award of the second Wurtemburg bridge contract to the Cline Construction Company of Butler, at their low bid of $67,822 was made by the Highway Department at Harrisburg yesterday. Bids for the project were opened several days ago. The proposed bridge is to span the Slippery Rock creek, about half a mile from the other Wurtemburg bridge, now under construction. It will be a two-span structure, with concrete approaches.

There are two curves, one at either end of the bridge which now occupies the site. It is proposed to change the roadway so that these curves will be eliminated. The length of the bridge, with road changes, will be around 1,400 feet. It is expected that work will be started in a short time.

Gov. Roosevelt Speaks Tonight At St. Louis, Mo.

Candidate To Make Another Major Speech In His Campaign Tour

ALL OPTIMISM; WILL VISIT SOUTH

More Promises Are Made As Candidate Continues His Campaign

By RAYMOND I. BORST
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ABOARD THE ROOSEVELT SPECIAL, Oct. 21.—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt came into Illinois today with a pledge that if elected president his first concern will be the stabilization of the coal industry and agriculture.

The presidential nominee was scheduled to arrive in Springfield at 10:30. After a visit to Lincoln's tomb, he will speak at the arsenal, confer with party leaders and then depart at 2:30 for St. Louis where tonight he will make the second of three major speeches of his campaign swing into the middle west and south.

Most Optimistic.

Roosevelt is confident that Illinois' 29 electoral votes are "in the bag" for the Democratic national ticket. In a brief speech from the rear platform of his private car at Mattoon, the governor said:

"I have no doubt about Illinois. The only question is, which is going to give me the bigger majority New York or Illinois."

He is equally confident that he has checked the "campaign of fear" which he charged the Republicans with conducting in a desperate ef-

New York Hotel Men Optimistic; Business Better

Seems Strange For Clerk To Say "Sorry All Filled Up" In Big Hostelries

BUSINESS ACTUALLY BETTER EVERYWHERE

By QUENTIN REYNOLDS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Hotel managers are wandering about the city with dazed looks upon their faces, acting as though they had been hit with very large hammers. They don't know the why or the wherefore but for the first time in months they are refusing reservations and saying those simple words which loom so big in the lives of hotel managers, "Sorry all filled up."

This is not only true of hotels like the Commodore, the Pennsylvania, the New Yorker and others frequented by a transient trade, it also is true of the high class establishments such as the Waldorf-Astoria, The Ritz-Towers, the Warwick, the Devon, the Lombardy, the Pierre and the Carlisle, which thrive chiefly on long term guests.

Optimism Everywhere.

Making the rounds of the hotels is like making the rounds of campaign managers for any given parties. Without exception, optimism is the prevailing note.

It may be just a flash, but look at the evidence. We start with the Waldorf-Astoria, the biggest, the most expensive and the newest hotel in the city. We meet Lucius Boomer, president of the corporation which owns the hotel, and we are startled with what he says.

"What's it all about?" he asks. "I don't know. I do know, however, that the volume of business we did during the past month has amazed us. Of course, we signed up a lot of functions for the next few months as we would be expected to do a lot in September and October, but what surprises us is the increase in transient trade."

All Filled Up.

Now for the Plaza, that staid landmark which smiles benignly over Central park, and which has maintained its prices despite flood, fire and elusiveness of the dollar.

Manager Fred Sterry looked as though someone had just told him

Inquest Throws No New Light On Death Of Cade

Coroner Potter Holds Inquiry Into Death Of East Brook Man This Morning

WAS FOUND DEAD IN HOME SUNDAY

Material Witness Is Released From Custody Following Inventigation

No new clues were developed during the inquest held this morning in Alderman L. C. Mant's office by Coroner Orville Potter into the death of William L. Cade, who was found beaten to death in his home near East Brook, Sunday morning.

County authorities and state police are still continuing their investigation, and hope to be able to discover more tangible clues to the identity of the persons who were with him in his home prior to his death.

Evidence was found that a party had been staged in the home by the police authorities when they were called Sunday morning after the body was discovered, but so far, they have been unable to learn who attended this party.

Witness Released.

Robert McConahy of the Harlansburg-East Brook road, who has been held in jail as a material witness, was released following the inquest.

Dr. Paul H. Wilson was the first witness called. He told of being summoned to the home of Mr. Cade near East Brook on Sunday morning, October 16, and finding Mr. Cade's body lying in a pool of blood in the corner of the front room.

Examination showed that he was dead, and after the body had been removed to an undertaker's in the city, he conducted a post-mortem examination, which showed he had received several wounds about the head. Death had been due to the effects of the blows which had been struck and subsequent hemorrhage.

These injuries would not have been sufficient to have caused instant death, and he had been dead from three to five hours when he first examined the body, Dr. Wilson stated.

Corp. Lawton of the state highway patrol told of being asked to go to the scene by District Attorney John R. Powers, and of finding the body as had been previously described.

No Evidence of Struggle.

There had been no evidence of a struggle in the room or in any of the other rooms of the house. A number of empty bottles and several glasses were found in the kitchen, Corp. Lawton stated.

Russel Cade, son of the deceased, who first discovered the body, told of visiting his father on Saturday afternoon, when he took some feed out for his chickens and rabbits. Bob McConahy was there at that time, around 5:30 Saturday afternoon, and McConahy and the elder Cade

Bank Teller, Wounded On August 25, Improves Enough To Return Home

Joseph Melnyk of Smithfield street, teller at the Peoples Savings and Trust Co., who was shot and seriously wounded by Harry Kazamczak of Bessemer on August 25, was able to return to his home from the Jameson Memorial hospital.

For a long time, it was feared that Melnyk would never recover from the effects of the bullets fired into his body by the enraged Kasamczak, one of which shattered the spinal column, paralyzing his body from the waist down.

Melnyk has gradually improved, however and was taken to his home Thursday afternoon. He has partially regained the use of his lower limbs, it was stated.

Story Of Five Year Old Daughter Results In Arrest For Slaying

(International News Service)

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 21.—Stricken with remorse and apparently resigned to his fate, Tilden J. Weaber, 43-year-old Palmyra carpenter, today told authorities he was ready to plead guilty to the slaying of his estranged wife, Kate.

Weaber related how his domestic difficulties affected him and said he drove his wife from Reading where she was employed as a housekeep, to Orwigsburg, on the pretext that he was to receive some money there. In the car with them was their five-year-old daughter, Betty, youngest of eight children.

"We quarreled. I took her and Betty into the woods. Then I cut Kate's throat with a razor.

"She struggled slightly; but she died almots at once."

"Ask Betty; she knows."

Cold Blooded Murder

Thus the man described his deed to District Attorney Leroy Enterline, of Schuylkill county.

Weaber will be taken from his cell in the Schuylkill county jail this afternoon for arraignment before Alderman Robert J. Kalbaugh, who issued the murder warrant.

If the man holds to his promise to plead guilty, Enterline said the court will be asked to take testimony to determine the degree of the crime and the punishment.

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

KINGSTON, Ont., Oct. 21.—Grim-faced, steel-helmeted soldiers patrolled the walls of Portsmouth penitentiary today in readiness for action should prisoners renew the fierce rebellion which was quelled yesterday by the troops' rifle fire after five hours of fighting.

The wild howls and shrieks of the rioting convicts was silenced today, but a report persisted the 220 prisoners involved in the uprising held 40 guards, who were overpowered at the height of the affray, as hostages and that tear gas would be resorted to by the authorities to liberate the guards.

Rumor Is Denied.

Acting Warden Gilbert Smith, however, denied this rumor.

Shots fired by the Royal Canadian horse artillery detachment which was summoned at the start of the outbreak wounded one prisoner in the shoulder, according to Smith.

The uprising within the prison walls was the second one this week. At the first one, also, a call for troops was issued.

Although authorities maintained great secrecy concerning the trouble, it was learned the revolt was started by 110 men housed in one dormitory because cells for them were lacking.

Vandals Damage Covered Bridge

County Commissioners Will Pay Reward For Arrest Of Persons Responsible

County Commissioner, P. O. Elder received word this forenoon that vandals have done considerable damage to the covered bridge across Hickory creek, east of Mt. Jackson. The commissioners had the bridge painted last spring, and placed in first class repair.

The vandals have been shooting holes through the roof, tearing off boards and defacing the sides. The holes in the roof appear to have been made with shotguns, and are so numerous that considerable repairs will be necessary.

The commissioners will pay a reward to any person furnishing information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who have been destroying the bridge.

Earl S. McKnight, a business man of the Butler road, who has been ill at his home for the past two weeks, is slightly improved it was said today.

But when the mower goes to roost, and autumn hits its goal, a fellow has to start to work a-shovelling winter coal. And as it lays in corners dark, the mower chuckles soft, and thinks of its long winter rest, hid in the old barn loft. As while it's there its owner works to shovel coal and pay, the bill the coal man sends around, it's fifty one today.

FORMER ENGLISH RECTOR IS UNFROCKED

Rev. Davidson Is Removed By English Clergy

Conduct Of Former Actor-Minister Causes Dismissal From Church

PLANS APPEAL TO HEAD OF CHURCH

(International News Service)

NORFOLK, Eng., Oct. 21.—The ecclesiastical career of Harold Francis Davidson, former rector of Stiffkey church, who was convicted by a consistory court of immoral conduct, came to an end today.

He was ordered unfrocked and "deprived of his living and emoluments" by the Bishop of Norfolk, sitting as presiding justice of a high court of sentence in ancient Norfolk Cathedral.

The proceedings were ready to begin, but Davidson was nowhere to be seen.

Offers Plea

Suddenly, however, Davidson appeared. With a dramatic gesture he planted himself before the assembled clergy and in a loud voice said:

"I am entirely innocent in the sight of God of any of these charges."

The bishop then read the sentence of the court.

"It is the judgment of this court," the bishop said, "that this man be removed, debased and degraded from the offices of priest and deacon of the church."

The trial of Davidson, who started life as an actor and spent much of his time as chaplain to theatrical associations, was one of the most sensational in British church annals.

Sensational Charges

Committed to trial on charges preferred by his bishop, Davidson was placed in the dock at a special consistory court assembled in Westminster Hall, London, while witness after witness was called to the stand to accuse him of flirting and philandering with girls in their teens.

Tales were told of week-end trips to Paris and midnight adventures with girls in unlighted bedrooms. Throughout the trial Davidson insisted his role was merely that of Samaritan to girls in distress.

Davidson announced he would appeal to the Archbishop of Canterbury, supreme head of the Anglican church.

lated it for them correctly. Then they told us what to reply, threatening torture unless we kept faith and replied as told.

"We had stomach trouble due to our diet. Our eyes and ears and throat were sore from lack of washing.

"We were not usually tied up, but were always watched closely."

The young woman said that during the long trek to the bandit camp after their capture she asked Pei Pa-Tien, the bandit chief, if they could stop and allow her to rest her blistered feet.

"He answered in a violent torrent of obscene abuse," she related, "threatening to kill us if we spoke.

"Finally he allowed us to ride mules, and then our feet began to swell so much we had to cut off our riding boots.

Feet Infected

"Then began a series of nights in mud hovels. We were miserable and tired. We constantly feared death. Our feet became infected, and yet we had no medicines.

"It was impossible to sleep on the brick floor.

"Mr. Corkran had marvelous courage in keeping me cheerful. He was wonderful in controlling his temper in the face of the Chinese abuse. Our only consolation was the presence of our dogs, which were with us."

Courage Displayed

Corkran's appraisal of Mrs. Pawley's bearing up was equally complimentary.

"Her courage was amazing," he said. "She never wept once."

The two were taken captive, along with another Englishman named McIntosh, while horseback riding last September 7. McIntosh soon escaped. British and Japanese authorities immediately sought the release of the captives, but met no success until yesterday, when they were freed.

Hunger Worse Thing

"We were allowed considerable freedom of movement during the day," Mrs. Pawley said, "But at night they trussed us up with a rope thrown over a beam in the ceiling, linking our arms together.

"The most amazing experience of all occurred on the march to the bandit camp from Newchwang shortly after we were kidnaped.

"Several times, we passed groups of Chinese natives. But in typical Oriental fashion they watched the procession in stolid silence, never lifting a hand to aid us although they knew we were being kidnaped."

Corkran said that the worst part of it so far as he was concerned was hunger.

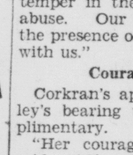

"Chinese millet may be good for the Chinese, but not for us," he said.

York state, and they have given the president a veritable arsenal of ammunition to use against the Roosevelt administration at Albany.

After leaving the White House, Senator Fearon dictated a letter to Secretary Mills which charged that under Gov. Roosevelt's administration the state debt in New York has been increased enormously, that appropriations have been larger, and that the state now faces a deficit of approximately $100,000,000 for the current fiscal year. This at a time, Fearon said, when other budgets were being trimmed, and at a time, too, when as a candidate for the presidency Gov. Roosevelt was promising the country economy at Washington should he be elected.

No Constructive Act.

Feardon's letter, made public through the Republican National committee, concluded with this thrust:

"He (Roosevelt) has had no complicated national or international problems to distract from the task at home, and yet I say to you very frankly that I know of no single constructive act on his part either in aid of industry or agriculture during his term of office to relieve the distress of people suffering from the economic depression."

As for Gov. Roosevelt's speech at Pittsburgh, where he particularly assailed the Hoover management of national finances. Secretary Mills declared it was filled with "extraordinary inaccuracies and distortions." He accused the Democratic nominee of "juggling figures" and of "substituting fiction for fact."

Hoover Leaves Tonight.

Armed with this sort of ammunition, the president leaves Washington tonight for his venture into the pivotal middle west.

He will start campaigning early tomorrow morning with a half hour stop in West Virginia at Charleston. From West Virginia, which is considered a doubtful state this year, Mr. Hoover will carry his campaign into Ohio again, traveling through the state from the Ohio river on the south to Toledo in the north.

A dozen stops are planned in traversing the state. He will arrive in Detroit only a few minutes before he is scheduled to address a capacity audience in the Olympia Arena.

It is likely Mr. Hoover will refer to the bonus question in his speech. His advisers are urging him to draw attention to his own stand on the issue, and contrast it with what they considered Gov. Roosevelt's "straddle" at Pittsburgh.

fort to keep President Hoover in the White House for four more years. In speeches in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Indiana, the governor pounded home the declaration that instead of having anything to fear about a Democratic administration at Washington, the voters can count upon it to restore prosperity.

He told a crowd which greeted him in Terre Haute last night that "old fashioned common sense economies will make things better after March 4." Referring to the repeated appointment of commissioners by the Republican administration at Washington, Roosevelt said:

"I am not going to appoint commission after commission when I go to Washington. I am for action and not just talk."

"How is President Hoover going to answer your budget speech?" some one called out to the governor in the crowd at Mattoon.

"I don't think it's answerable," he replied, and the crowd yelled its approval.

Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, keynoter at the national convention, joined the governor's party at Indianapolis and will accompany the nominee as far as Louisville.

Schroeder-Dague Reward Is Still In Court's Hands

Issue Ordered Framed To Determine Disposition Not Yet Completed

It is expected that within the next two or three weeks something definite will be down in the issue which was ordered framed to determine who is entitled to the reward for the apprehension of Irene Schroeder and Glenn Dague, slayers of Corporal Brady Paul.

This issue was ordered framed several months ago, but according to Attorney Clyde V. Ailey, who represents a half dozen of the claimants, the issue has never been completed. It still requires the signature of Attorney Charles Margiotti, who represents one of the claimants.

The reward money, $3200, has been paid into court, but so many claimants appeared that the county commissioners were unable to determine the matter and upon petition to court an issue was ordered framed to try the case and determine who is to get the reward. It is not likely that the trial will come up for some time.

INQUEST THROWS NO NEW LIGHT ON DEATH OF CADE

were discussing a party planned for that evening, "if they got them," Mr. McConahy had said. Russell stated that he did not know who they were referring to.

His father asked him to get a sack of sugar and some meat, and after he returned home he gave his brother $2 to purchase the necessary articles. The brother, Howard Cade, had delivered the sugar but forgot the meat, that evening, and when he went out the next morning on Sunday to deliver the meat his father had asked for, he found his dead body, lying in front room of the house in a pool of blood.

The witness stated that he had gone downtown Saturday evening, after he had returned from his father's, and had returned and gone to bed about 9:30 or 10 o'clock.

Door Locked.

The front door of his father's house was locked when he arrived there about 9:30 the next morning, and he gained an entrance through a rear door, which was standing open. The lights were also burning in the house.

A great number of bottles, around 25 or 30, were sitting on the kitchen table, with about a half dozen glasses. The door from the kitchen into the front part of the house was closed and on going into the front room he found his father's body, lying on the floor.

He then went to a neighbor's house and called a doctor, after which he went into town and asked his brother to get the coroner after which he returned to the father's home with Mrs. Joe Delp.

District Attorney Powers asked if his father had not been in the habit of entertaining a great number of visitors at his home and received an affirmative reply . He had not seen anyone in particular that he could name there during the past few months, however, he said.

Parties At House.

He often told me about parties coming out to the house but hadn't mentioned any names. Florence Widal had been his housekeeper for a time, the son said, and he had known of an Edna Shibe being there, and Robert McConahy and women and men from Youngstown and Grove City.

McConahy had invited him to come out to the party that evening, but he said he had not wanted to go.

His father owned another property beside the house in which he lived, and had some steel stock and P. & O. stock, in addition to a paid up life insurance policy of which he, the son, was beneficiary.

Howard Cade, another son, told of going to his father's house about 7:30 Saturday evening, when he took the sugar out. There was no one there at the time but his father, who was lying on the day bed in the front room. The spot where the body was found was just a few feet away from the bed, in the corner of the room.

There was nothing on the table when he was there indicating a party.

He and his wife came in town, went to a Mr. Fulwood's home and thence to a movie returning to their own home about 11:30. Russell was in bed at the time, he stated.

He told of going to the home next morning and seeing the body.

McConahy Testifies

Robert McConahy, who lives at R. D. No. 9, on the Harlansburg-Eastbrook road, told of being with Mr. Cade the greater part of Saturday. He had known him for three years and had been with him a great deal during the past year. McConahy is a youth of 19. The slain man was 66 years of age.

He said he had known of a great number of people who came and went at the Cade home near Eastbrook, among them Tilly Radish, Edna Shibe, James Gross, Sam Gettings, Florence Windal, Mrs. Reed of the paper mill road, Elizabeth Williams, John Radish, Mrs. Sadie DeHuff, who was better known to him as Sade O'Neil, Tony Sheesh, Mary Sheesh and many others he did not know by name.

He had been with Cade to the Radish home and to a place run by an Assyrian woman called "Pigeon-Toe" on Sciota street.

He and Cade had been in town twice during the day, selling cider on the South Side. They had gone to Tilly's place on Sciota street and invited her to come to the party that evening.

That evening he said he brought Cade in and they went to Tilly's, but she said she could not go out because she had a washing in the tub.

He said he brought Cade back home and started for Croton, as he had a date with a girl whose parents would not permit him to come to her house, so he had parked along Croton avenue, waiting for her. She did not come out and he went down to Castle Beach and saw George Lawrence. That was about 11:30 and he had waited about four hours for the girl. Lawrence told him they had been at Castle Beach and had returned about 9:30.

He then went in to the home of a Mr. Allen and asked him what time it was. He was told it was 12:15 and Mr. Allen said he was waiting for Louise to come home. He met the girl and her boy friend, whom he took downtown and then went out home and went to bed. He had not stopped at Cade's again on the way home.

After taking his sisters to church he had gone to the Cade home and found Mr. Cade had been killed. He said that afternoon he went in town to tell Tilly about Mr. Cade's death and to ask her if she had been out there the night before.

"Did you not tell Tilly that Russell Cade had been at his father's home at four o'clock that morning?" he was asked by Powers. The witness denied that he had.

Private Sarko of the state police told of stopping McConahy the next morning as he was driving past, at the request of Russell Cade. He also told of collecting the beer bottles and glasses and taking them in town as evidence.

The coroner's jury then brought in a verdict that William L. Cade had come to his death at the hands of persons unknown on the night of October 15.

The jury was composed of John F. Connery, Harry B. Steiner, Elmer J. Suber, Leonard A. Campbell, E. F. Strizzi and Charles E. Allen.

locks until they succeeded in freeng a group of 110 other convicts. They stormed out of the prison house, into the yard, where soldiers and guards engaged in a furious battle with the rioters.

Brig. Gen. D. M. Ormond, Dominion superintendent of penitentiaries, who came here following the first riot, said the prisoners did "some damage to furniture and fixtures," but maintained the outbreak was confined to the "overflow prisoners" in the dormitory.

Guards Not Held.

Kingston, Ont., Oct. 21.—Acting Warden Gilbert Smith of Portsmouth penitentiary denied reports today that 40 prison guards were held as hostages by rioting prisoners in the penitentiary.

"No one is held hostage by prisoners here," said Smith. "The prison lights are quite all right, and all is quiet this morning."

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., Oct. 21.—Use your head instead of your feet in getting a job, is Roger W. Babson's advice to the unemployed.

If you can't get a job at once, declares the noted economist, "spend an hour or two in your public library, systematically studying the industry to which you wish to go back. Try to think up or work out something you can do for an employer, then go and explain how you can do it, says Babson.

that he had been discovered as the sole heir to the Wendell millions.

"Depression?" he snorted. "It's just a rumor these past few weeks. We are doing great and expect to keep it up."

Let's shoot over to the Hotel Pierre, the stamping ground of the people who have what it takes.

"How is business? You probably won't believe me, but it's great. We have all sorts of advance orders."

Now the St. Moritz, the home of the literatuers who have made a hit.

S. Gregory Taylor, president of the hotel, is whistling happily as we nab him.

More People Traveling.

"We have more people here right now from European countries than we ever had before. We have a great many people from the far west. This proves that people are traveling and when people are traveling, it means they have money."

We drop into the quiet Gramercy-Park hotel the home of many long-term guests who like the quietness of the establishment. Manager J. Edgar Muir laughs when we ask him if he has cut rates lately.

"Why should we? We are doing fine. Business must be picking up, for a great many people who formerly lived here but who moved out when things went bad, are back again."

We hear the same thing from Frank J. Lenny, who runs the exclusive Carlisle. "We can't take care of all the people who have been asking us for reservations lately."

Business Improving.

L. A. Malony, manager of the huge Pennsylvania hotel, home of thousands of traveling salesmen who favor its central location, was enthusiastic.

"What's going on these days? We do ten per cent more business now than we did a month ago or two months ago. It looks like everything is on the up grade again."

O. E. S. PARTIES HELD THURSDAY EVENING

On Thursday evening Mrs. Harry Bowen of Wilmington avenue entertained a number of members of Shenango chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, in her home with Mrs. C. V. Pyle acting as joint hostess, at cards. This marked another of the chapter's series scheduled for the month of October.

Bridge and 500 weere featured and the prizes were captured by Mrs. Agnes Allen, Mrs. Mildred Weygant and Mrs. Sara Rhodes. The serving of a dainty collation brought the evening to a close.

Another event of the same nature also took place at the home of Mrs. William Klee, Garfield avenue, with Mrs. P. H. Bridenbaugh as associate hostess. Bridge was the diversion and trophies for honors went to Miss Jean Jackson, Mrs. Helen Wharton and Mrs. Marie Hartland. The occasion, most enjoyable, was concluded with the serving of a delicious lunch by the hostesses.

Hosts At Hallowe'en Party

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kimmel entertained a group of 24 young people in their home on the East Brook road Wednesday evening. As the guests arrived they were taken to the basement where bridge and bingo were featured pastimes. Prizes went to Mr. and Mrs. Chic Fenton and Glen Pearsall.

The house was appropriately decorated for the occasion in rustic tones, and at a suitable hour an appetizing lunch was served at small tables by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Francis Shoaff and Mrs. Alice Gordon.

At the close of the evening, Mrs. Marie Pearsall and Cecil Gordon were given the house prizes, for which they held the lucky number given them as they entered early in the evening.

BIRTHDAY HONORED AT DINNER-BRIDGE

Miss Ellen Rocks was completely surprised Thursday evening on arriving at her home on Bartram avenue to find in waiting a gathering of friends who were invited by her aunt, Miss Mary T. Rocks, to participate at a dinner-bridge as a means of celebrating her birthday anniversary.

After congratulations had been extended the guests took their places about the dining room table, which was decorated in autumn flowers and centered with a large birthday cake topped with small lighted candles. The hours were spent in an informal social manner and during the evening the guest of honor was presented with some lovely remembrances. Cards formed the main pastime, Lillian Griffith and Sara Elizabeth Long winning the prives.

Those participating included the Misses Sara Elizabeth Long of New Wilmington, Florine Weller, Lillian Griffith, Mabel Smith, Kathryn Connors, Irene Connors, Mary Jane McGinty, Dorothy Patch and Miss Rocks.

Mrs. P. J. McGinty assisted the hostess throughout the evening.

SHELTON BIBLE CLASS PLANS MASQUERADE

Members of the Shelton Bible Class of the First Christian church will entertain at a Hallowe'en party Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Charles Colnot on Smithfield street. Special guests of this occasion will include all those having ever attended the class, who are extended a cordial invitation.

They will masquerade for the event, and a "get acquainted" program has been arranged.

Semper Fidelis Club

The Semper Fidelis Club members enjoyed their Hallowe'en party held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Francis Colao of South Mercer street Thursday evening. The event was in the form of a tureen dinner and the guests made their appearance in masquerade. At eight o'clock a delectable menu was served and following cards games and fortune telling filled in the hours with Mrs. Alfonso Scarazzo winning the prize. Orange and black tones prevailed throughout.

Special guests who participated were the Misses Theresia Maranna and Charlotte Biondi.

In three weeks Mrs. H. A. Fazzone of 907 Jefferson street will receive the members.

READING CIRCLE '06 FIRST REGULAR MEET

Members of the Reading Circle of '06 gathered in the home of Mrs. C. C. Campbell on Ray street, Thursday afternoon for their first regular meeting of the fall season. Roll call was responded to with "A Product of Pennsylvania" by a large number.

After the usual routine had been completed, Mrs. W. D. McKnight gave a splendid paper on "Pennsylvania Trees" followed by an article entitled "A New Lake For Pennsylvania" regarding the Pymatuning dam by Mrs. G. G. Orr. The closing feature was a reading by Mrs. P. K. Fike.

Special visitors of the occasion were Mrs. Grace Baker and Mrs. George Hammett of Clarksburg, West Virginia, house guests of Mrs. Campbell.

On November 3 the members will be received in the home of Mrs. Jennie Shaffer, 813 Butler avenue, instead of the hostess listed in the year book.

SYNODICAL SOCIETY HAS JUBILEE TEA

To fittingly celebrate the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Pennsylvanai Synodical society, the missionary societies of the First Presbyterian church had a jubilee tea Thursday afternoon in the Sunday school room of the church and entertained the women of the various Presbyterian churches of the city.

The presidents of the various missionary societies, gowned in charming afternoon frocks, greeted the guests upon entrance and tea was served from a long tea table, beautifully appointed in silver and yellow, with a graceful centerpiece of yellow baby mums, with four tall cathedral tapers in yellow, lighted at the four corners of the centerpiece.

Mrs. R. G. Maxwell and Mrs. W. E. McClure presided at the tea table throughout the afternoon.

Mrs. H. W. McKee was in charge of the program, which included four organ numbers by Thomas H. Webber, Jr.: Overture to Coriolanus by Beethoven; Carrilon by DeLamarter; minuet by Detier and Prelude in E Minor by Detier.

Mrs. Madeline Rugh, accompanied by Mr. Webber, sang "Nocturne" by Curran and "The Sunbeam" by Clokey. Mrs. Ralph A. Cooper read "Music of the Past" and "In the Morning".

A room of antiques attracted the attention of the women at the close of the program, many lovely old things being on display.

JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB HEARS OF SCOUTING

Members of the Junior Woman's Club were entertained Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. William McCombs, Mt. Jackson, for the biweekly session.

Miss Elizabeth Reis, commissioner of Girl Scouts, gave a talk on the Girl Scout movement and reviews of the plays of 1929 and 1930 were given by Mary Wilson, Georgiana McNees and Frances Borland.

The November 3 meeting will be in the home of Agnes Webster, 19 North Front street.

Marchionda-Piccirilli.

Miss Elizabeth Piccirilli, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Piccirilli of Aliquippa, and Frank Marchionda, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Marchionda of West Madison avenue, were married Thursday morning at 10 o'clock in the Titus Catholic church by Rev. Fr. Edward Zauner.

The bride was given away by her brother, Albert Piccirilli. Attendants were: Maid of honor, Viola Cercone; the best man, Thomas Naples, and bridesmaids, Anna DiNello, Irene Naples, Julia Silla, Angeline LaDona; ushers, Guy Peluso, Frank Cresce, Albert Piccirilli, Ralph DiCicco; ringboy, Ralph Garafalo; trainbearers, Louise Piccirilli and Anna Corsett; guide, Rita Sylvester.

Bride and groom will make their home at 209 West Madison avenue.

Relatives from New Castle who attended the wedding were the Marchionda family, Garafalo, DiLisio and Cicerone families, Mr. and Mrs. John Cassanta, Marie Naples, Mr. and Mrs. Tony DeRamo Mr. and Mrs. Mark Ramonda and daughter, Domenick Sylvester, Mrs. Lally, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rose and George Nickelson.

Jolly Twelve Club

Mrs. Charles Gardner of East Brook entertained the Jolly Twelve Club members Thursday evening at the home of her sister, Mrs. H. B. McConnell, Round street.

A brief business session opened the program, followed by a social time spent informally with cards, and lovely prizes were awarded the winners.

Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. McConnell at a late hour. As special guests they had the Misses Cassie and Mary Brothers.

In two weeks Mrs. Charles Riney of Superior street will entertain.

Queen Sewing Circle

The Queen Sewing Circle members were guests of Mrs. William Crowe on Dewey avenue Thursday afternoon. Eight were present and the hours were spent informally with chat and sewing.

Fall flowers were used in decorations and after the serving of a dainty repast by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Hettie Rhodes, they adjourned.

In four weeks Mrs. William Morris of Sampson street will receive the ladies.

Executive Board

The next meeting of the executive board of the New Castle Business and Professional Women's Club will take place Monday evening, October 31, at the home of the president, Mrs. Sara S. McCune, Wallace avenue. The next regular meeting of the club will be on November 7 when the membership committee will have charge of initiation of new members. Business will also be transacted.

Class To Have Tea

Members of the J. O. Y. class of the First Baptist church, taught by Mrs. W. O. Williams, will entertain at a tea Friday evening, October 28 in the home of Mrs. C. L. Klingensmith, Adams street.

PITTSBURGH WEDDING OF INTEREST HERE

A wedding of interest to friends in this city was the marriage of Miss Charlotte M. Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Watson of Shady avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa., and Louis B. McConaghy, son of Mrs. Catherine McConaghy of North Mulberry street, New Castle.

The marriage was solemnized before an altar of massed chrysanthemums at the East End Christian church in Pittsburgh, on Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Dr. John R. Ewers officiated, using the Episcopal marriage ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father in the presence of a large number of invited guests, looked lovely in a gown of French blue velvet wtih matching accessories and carried an arm bouquet of orchids.

The bridesmaids, Miss Mary Ann Wurtz and Miss Jane Rebele of Pittsburgh, wore gowns of violet blue velvet trimmed in ermine, with hats to match, and carried yellow tea roses.

Thomas Boltz of Akron, a friend of the groom, acted as best man, and the ushers were Robert E. McConaghy and Neil B. Watson.

A beautifully appointed wedding breakfast served at Klemans Inn in East Liberty included the bridal party, out of town guests and close friends.

Following a motor trip to Shenandoah Valley, Washington, D. C., and other southern points, Mr. and Mrs. McConaghy will be at home to their friends at 48 S. Valley street, Akron, O., after November 1.

The bride, who is very popular in Pittsburgh, attended Flint high school at Flint, Mich., where she has many friends, and was graduated from Pittsburgh academy.

The groom is a graduate of the New Castle high school, class of '25, of Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh, and is employed as rate engineer with the Ohio-Edison company at Akron, O.

B. D. T. MEMBERS HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Miss Helen Hurst and Miss Marie Haering entertained jointly at the home of the former on North Shenango street Thursday evening members of B. D. T. club at a Hallowe'en party.

The guests arrived at an early hour, garbed in freak costumes. Dimly lighted rooms, giving a weird appearance with the various pumpkins, black cats, goblins and other objects being placed about, formed an ideal setting.

Games and numerous contests were enjoyed and prizes were awarded to those successful.

At a suitable hour the club members pleasantly surprised Mrs. Lucille Davies, a bride of recent date, in presenting her with a beautiful gift.

After partaking of a delicious lunch, the guests, numbering 20 departed and on Wednesday, November 2, they will meet at Malta hall on East Washington street for a tureen dinner.

Out of town visitors who shared the occasion included Mrs. Jessie Richael of Youngstown, O., and Mrs. Nellie Barber and daughter Mary Lou of West Bridgewater.

GHOST PARTY IS PLANNED FOR CLASS

The party planned for the members of the Baldwin Bible class of the Highland U. P. church for Tuesday evening, October 25, will be a rather spooky affair, for the event will be in the form of a ghost party in the dining room of the church.

The members will attend the installation services for the new pastor, Rev. D. L. Ferguson, in a body at 7:45 and the class festivities will begin immediately after the services.

E. O. W. Club

The E. O. W. Club members met at the home of Mrs. W. B. Kelner on East Washington street Thursday evening. Two tables of 500 were in play, and at the close of the entertainment the hostess served a dainty lunch. Mrs. Cora Rodgers assisted with the menu.

HIGHLAND BOOK CLUB LUNCHEON GUESTS

Most delightful was the meeting of the Highland Book club members Thursday afternoon when they were entertained in the home of Mrs. Clarence Fisher, 214 Sheridan avenue, at a prettily appointed one o'clock luncheon. Covers were arranged for sixteen, including Mrs. William Agnew. Miss Grace Woodworth and Mrs. W. L. Campbell, special guests of the event.

The balance of the social period was spent in a bridge contest, and before adjourning the exchange of books occurred.

The next meeting on November 3 will be held at the home of Mrs. H. C. Harper, Wallace avenue.

MARTIN-HEESS WEDDING EVENT

Marriage of Miss Helen Ann Martin, daughter of Mrs. George Martin of Detroit, Mich., and Dr. Judson B. Heess of Detroit, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Heess of 225 Garfield avenue, this city, was an event of Tuesday, October 18, 1932, at 7 p. m. at the home of the bride, Hogarth avenue, Detroit, with the Rev. Jefferys, pastor of a Presbyterian church of that city, officiating.

The ceremony took place in the living room of the Martin home in the presence of the immediate families of the contracting parties. In a large bay window, arranged in altar effect, were palms, baskets of white chrysanthemums and high tapers.

Prior to the ceremony, Miss Helen Downing, a friend of the bride, sang "Oh Promise Me". Miss Downing played the wedding march as the wedding party approached the altar.

The bride was given away by her mother. Dr. Theodore K. Heess of this city, brother of the groom, acted as best man. The bride was attended by two bridesmaids, her sister, Mrs. Geraldine Putman, and Miss Lona Scott.

The bride was most attractively attired in a white satin gown with accessories to match and long white veil and carried bride's roses, while the bridemaids wore Burgundy velvet gowns with accessories to match and carried roses. A ring ceremony was carried out.

A reception held at 8 p. m. followed the marriage and was attended by a large number of the friends of the bride and groom. They were recipients of many fine wedding gifts. Later in the evening Dr. and Mrs. Heess left on a honeymoon trip by automobile, through Kentucky, South Carolina and other southern points.

On their return they will be at home to their friends in Schenley Hall, Gladstone avenue, Detroit. Mrs. Heess is prominent and well known and a graduate of the University of Michigan in dental hygiene, while Dr. Heess is a graduate of New Castle high school and also of the dental school of the University of Michigan. Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Heess and son Dr. T. K. Heess and Mrs. Margaret Shields of this city were present at the wedding and reception.

Lucky Bridge Club.

The Lucky Bridge club members were pleasingly received in the home of Miss Maxine Pitzer on Highland avenue Thursday evening, and as a special guest they had Miss Evelyn Swanson.

The early hours were devoted to a cards contest and at the close of play Miss Gretchen Smith was awarded the prize for high honors.

A dainty lunch was later served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Gladie Biddle.

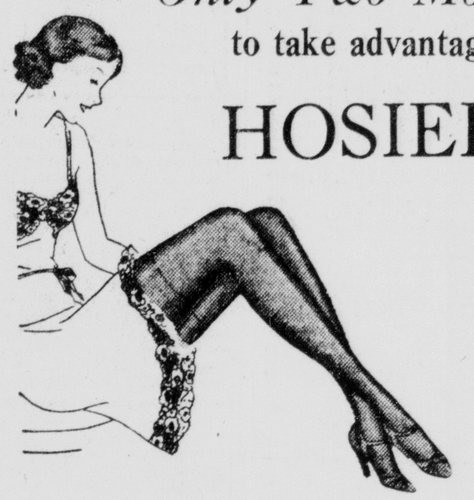

On November 3 the club will meet in the home of Miss Jean Snyder Frazier, Clenmore boulevard.

Reunited Ladies League

The regular meeting of the Reunited Ladies League was held at the home of Mrs. Belle Clark on Neshannock avenue Thursday evening. Bingo formed the main diversion, Mrs. Rebecca Strong, Mrs. Mary Williams and Mrs. Mary Skidmore being the prize winners.

After the serving of a delectable lunch by the hostess, they disbanded and in two weeks Mrs. Skidmore of Mercer street will entertain.

To make Children
EAT
Don't force children to eat! The girl or boy who has no appetite has stasis — which means the child is sluggish. But cathartics have caused more constipation than they ever cured! The "California treatment" is best—just pure fig syrup. Try this for a few days then see how eagerly your youngster will eat.
How to Conquer Sluggishness
Stimulate the colon and that child with a finicky appetite will devour everything set before him. Here's the simple treatment that does more for babies or older children than all the diets, fad foods, or tonics.
Nature has provided the only "medicine" you'll need to stir a child's colon muscles into proper action. California fig syrup. Pure, delicious, harmless. It acts on the lower colon—where the trouble is. It has no ill effects on the intestines.
Begin tonight, with this marvelous "California treatment." Any druggist has California fig syrup, all bottled, with directions. Use enough the first time to cleanse the clogged colon of every bit of poison and hard waste. Then just a little twice a week until the child's appetite, color, weight and spirits tell you the stasis is gone. Whenever a cold or other upset clogs the system again, use this natural vegetable laxative instead of drastic drugs.
WARNING
There are dealers who practice substitution. Be sure to protect your child by looking for the name CALIFORNIA on the bottle.

ART CLUB OBSERVES TENTH ANNIVERSARY

The Art club members met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Roy Conway on North Mercer street for their regular meeting. This marked their tenth anniversary and in observance of the occasion, they gave a Washington bicentennial program.

During the business session Mrs. J. A. McNeill, president, presided, and the club collect was read by Mrs. Norman Smith. Reports of committees included that of the child health department, by Mrs. George Short; legislative, Mrs. James Cole; community service, Miss Edith Moore; educational, Mrs. M. R. Hornung; home department, Mrs. Irvine Balph; blind department, Mrs. Earl Ramsey, and international relations, Mrs. David Moore.

The program presented was in charge of Mrs. Cole, and comprised the following features: "Life of Washington in Murals" with Mrs. T. I. Elliott in charge was most interesting, and the pictures were of "George Washington," "Betsy Ross" and "The Spirit of '76" with Mrs. Clinton Keagy, Mrs. J. L. Reed, Mrs. George Knox and Mrs. E. J. Connery taking part. Mrs. H. H. Thayer gave an article "The Bi-Centennial Exhibition in National Gallery of Art". "Postural Art" by Mrs. W. D. Stitzinger and the singing of patriotic songs by the club with Mrs. J. L. Reed accompanying, concluded the entertainment.

The next meeting on November 17 will be held at the home of Mrs. George Knox, 201 Fairfield avenue.

LOCAL WOMEN ATTEND SLIPPERY ROCK MEETING

Yesterday Mrs. Marcus Feuchtwanger, Mrs. S. D. Pearson, Mrs. W. C. Eckenroad, Mrs. William Howley, Mrs. F. E. Crawford, Mrs. William Cosel and Mrs. Harvey Milholland all of this city motored to Slippery Rock where they attended the Butler County Federation meeting held there.

Mrs. Cosel spoke on "Peace" and Mrs. J. Chalfonte, president of the South Western District the State Federation who resides at Wilkinsburg gave a complete report of the Convention held in Philadelphia.

Mrs. T. C. Blaisbell, of Slippery Rock, the wife of Prof. Blaisbell, told in detail of her recent trip to Russia which was exceptionally interesting.

Mrs. Harry Bradley of Franklin, Pa., gave a talk on County Library work and Mrs. S. D. Pearson, president of the Lawrence County Federation of Women's Clubs, spoke on "Conservation."

Mrs. Kauffman of Pittsburgh, chairman of International Relations of the State Federation of the South Western District was another speaker of prominence.

Y. P. C. U. Masque

There were strange looking people roaming about the dining room of the Highland United Presbyterian church Thursday evening, with dim lights and Hallowe'en decorations adding a spooky atmosphere to the setting. The event was the annaual Hallowe'en party of the Y. P. C. U. of the church and after a period of identifying their associates the young people unmasked and under the direction of Katherine McGrath, games suggestive of the holiday were played.

Claudia Boughter conducted a brief business session when plans were made for entertaining the Butler young people at a Sunday evening tea on November 6.

Beulah James was in charge of the refreshments of the evening and there was a mountain of donuts and gallons of fresh cider disappeared.

Miss Frances Shaw was in charge of decorating the room.

Sicilian Girls Club

Miss Marian Gennula of Emerson avenue had as guests in her home Thursday evening, the Sicilian Girls Club. After a business session the hours were devoted to cards, the prize for high honors going to Trinie Ross.

A dainty lunch was served, the hostess being assisted by her sister Josephine. Adjournment followed and on November 3 Nancy Ross will have club.

In these times, you have a perfect right to expect lower prices—even on fine things. But there's simply no limit to the low prices you can pay if you look for price alone.
We do not sell "prices." Instead, we have always operated our store on the assumption that intelligent people want quality first of all. And, in dealing with a reputable store such as ours, take it for granted that the price is fair.

"INTIMIDATION" IS NOW THE CRY

IT WAS to have been expected. The charge by James A. Farley, Roosevelt political manager, is that "a campaign of intimidation among workers" is now being carried on in an effort to secure votes for Herbert Hoover. And all because a great employer of labor, Henry Ford, has expressed the opinion that the country needs Hoover in the White House. There arises Senator Connally of Texas—happy hunting ground of Pork Barrel Garner—to assert that Ford is attempting "to frighten and club the workers of the country into voting for Hoover." So it goes. It has come to the pass where, if any person familiar with business conditions gives public utterance to his faith in the Republican Administration's ability to restore the Nation to prosperity, he is assailed with bitterness.

Now what was it that Ford said? He prepared a statement of his own views. He made it perfectly plain that he had no desire to "control any man's vote." There was not the slightest threat to any employee. From the depths of his knowledge of the situation he discussed it in these words:

"President Hoover has overcome the forces that almost destroyed industry and employment. His efforts to start the country back to work are beginning to show results.

"We are convinced that any break in his program would hurt industry and employment. To prevent times from getting worse and to help them to get better President Hoover must be elected.

"These are our convictions and we submit them to the serious consideration of all Ford employees throughout the country and their families."

The views of Henry Ford are quite generally those of men of business. There is, for example, the president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, General W. W. Atterbury. His is an organization of 250,000 stockholders and a present payroll of 115,000 employees, with 50,000 more on furlough, all of whom hope to be back in active service. General Atterbury feels the responsibility of his position and he offers his advice. "All of our employees are of course at liberty to vote as they think best," he says, but as for himself, he expects to "vote for Mr. Hoover." And for what reason? He states it:

"Mr. Hoover is in no way responsible for the chaotic economic condition of the world nor its reaction on our own country.

"We are slowly but surely recovering the ground we have lost. Industry is picking up, carloadings are increasing, confidence is being regained, and unemployment is decreasing.

"This is being accomplished under the leadership of President Hoover. This program, exercised through various agencies created upon his initiative, is showing good results. If permitted to continue under his guidance, I am convinced it will bring back normal conditions."

From London comes a declaration from Charles M. Schwab, who is certainly in a position to analyze the economic situation. "I believe the best way to better conditions is to re-elect Mr. Hoover," says Mr. Schwab. "The helpful program which he inaugurated should be carried through under his direction. This is no time to make a change."

Anything "intimidating" in these statements? Any effort to "club" workers? Only frantic agitators who can not demolish facts and who rely upon misleading and the unthinking can so insist. Here are the calm expressions of opinion of men who realize to the full the necessity—if the econ mic depression is to be ended—of fighting along the lines organized by President Hoover and rejecting the vague promises of Democratic leadership—promises which must be weighed in the scales of the demoralizing performances of the Democ... majority in the House at its late session.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

BOYS AND THE FARM

Some writers lament the fact that boys are leaving the farms, as though the farm boy had not the same right to choose his vocation in life as other boys. There would be as much logic in asserting that the son of a coal miner, for instance, should not aspire to be anything but a coal miner.

Of course, if a farm boy has no ambition to enter business, or a profession, or is not willing to apply himself to learning a skilled trade, he had better stay on the farm. Without education he would be worse off in a town or city than in the country, probably remaining a common laborer.

But for the intelligent farm boy who can secure an education it cannot be denied that the cities offer wider opportunities. In fact, many of the leaders in every field of endeavor came originally from the farm.

While most of the trades and professions appear to be crowded today, farming is also overdone, as may be seen by the unsatisfactory condition of agriculture. More farm products are raised than can be marketed at a profit over cost of production.

Whenever the demand equals the supply we shall see better prices for agricultural products, and we shall also see people going back to the farm. But until that time comes the farm boy should be encouraged to enter any vocation for which his talents and education are fitting.

It may be added that there are even now excellent opportunities right on the farm for boys who will study and apply modern agricultural methods, but the future holds little for the indolent and shiftless on the farm or anywhere else.

A Man Wonders About Being a Success And Is Somewhat Consoled

By MARSHALL MASLIN

Somehow he'd never been a "success". He didn't have the knack.

He wanted the thing that people call success, to be sure, but he never seemed to want it as much as other people he knew. They'd do things that were necessary to achieve it and he never could . . . Something must have been lacking in him. Something that spurred other men on to difficult, dangerous jobs, that pushed them up to positions of security and responsibility. He wondered, occasionally, what that "something" could have been.

At times he was vaguely unhappy about that lack of success. But he had observed, too, that some of those acquaintances of his who had made successes of their lives didn't seem any happier than he was. In fact, they seemed unhappier. Once in a while they would make remarks that almost showed regret. He wondered occasionally, what that "something" could have been.

At times he was vaguely unhappy about that lack of success. But he had observed, too, that some of those acquaintances of his who had made successes of their lives didn't seem any happier than he was. In fact, they seemed unhappier. Once in a while they would make remarks that almost showed regret. He wondered if they were sincere or were just pretending in his presence because they knew he had gone quietly ahead in his own way, in his own jobs, without any great excitement.

He'd observed those other men's wives, too. They weren't like his own. Some of them were complacent. Some were harassed. One of them, he remembered, was always goading her husband to greater efforts.

His own wife was different. She wasn't one of those limp and colorless women, by any means, but she was at ease with life. She'd taken him as he was and had never tried desperately to make him over. She was a happy woman who liked other people and was at ease with them.

He wondered more about his children. What would the boy and the girl think of their father? What about the time when they were old enough to go to college and realized that he couldn't afford to send them unless they worked part of the way through? Would they despise him secretly? . . . He hoped not. He didn't really think so. They liked him now. He felt that they loved him. He'd heard his son boasting about his father to another boy. That other boy was complaining that his father was "mean" and "cranky". His son was saying that HIS father never was like that. . . . No, he guessed his children would never hold it against him that he couldn't pay all their way to college. They were nice kids and he was proud of them.

He needn't worry. His wife still loved him and so did his children. He hadn't made a big success, but he'd managed, somehow or other, to get along well enough in his home. He might, in his own way, be a success yet. You never could tell.

YOURSELF AND OTHERS

You can learn much about humans from a study of self.

If you are normal, or near it, there is not much difference between your habits of mind and that of other folk.

You know better than anyone else can know about your frailties.

You realize how weak or how strong you would be in temptation.

You know in many ways that you are not what you seem to other people.

Your general standing may be good, but you know how your reputation would suffer if you were known to be just what you are.

You are putting up a good bluff and thousands of others are, also.

It's well that you have a well-developed bump of pride, isn't it?

Were it not for the speech of people you might not be even as good a citizen as you are.

Sometimes you wonder if your friends are keeping check on the many mean impulses you have to master.

Probably they are, and doing a better job at remembering than you are.

They may not be as successful at correcting their faults as you are.

But knowing yourself as you do, should you not be more charitable toward those who slip occasionally, since you sidestep pretty often yourself.

NEED

All splendid was the work he did
When hunger at his elbow sat,
But now from every suffering rid
His canvases seem stale and flat.

When in an attic room alone
He labored painfully and slow,
Chilled to the marrow of the bone,
His colors had a richer glow.

But fame at last has found him out,
And wealth has comforted his pain,
And now although his limbs are stout
No further goal will he attain.

A critic at his canvas looks
And has this wisdom to impart:
'Tis hunger writes the finest books
And suffering spurs creative art.

Coolidge Speech Appraised As Orthodox Partisan Plea

Former President Credited With Influence As Political Orator And Recognized As Supporter Of Present Administration

The country gives much attention to the speech delivered by former President Coolidge in New York in support of his successor in office. His clear view of the issues of the campaign is recognized and his unqualified indorsement of the policies of President Hoover is considered significant, but his opponents declare that the address was along traditional party lines and answer his arguments as to the treatment of the depression.

"It is a word of counsel to the people; it offers them the judgment of one of the nation's ablest, best-balanced minds, trained by the longest experience in the discharge of the highest responsibilities," says the BUFFALO EVENING NEWS (Ind. Rep.). That paper believes it "should have a tremendous effect in rallying an earnest-thinking population to vote as he advises." The TOPEKA DAILY CAPITAL (Rep.) calls it a "powerful appeal," while the LEXINGTON LEADER (Ind. Rep.) views it as "clear, cogent, forceful, and eloquent, because of its simple and direct statement of economic principles."

"A historical review of the Hoover Administration" is recognized by the SPOKANE SPOKESMAN-REVIEW (Rep.) uttered with "a deep conviction that Herbert Hoover has been faithful to his high duty and has rendered pre-eminent service in a great crisis." The MINNEAPOLIS JOURNAL (Ind. Rep.) holds that "he has shown the people that welcome symptoms of convalescence have not appeared by chance, but in response to sound treatment, skillfully applied by Mr. Hoover." That paper also declares: "Mr. Coolidge has made so crystal clear the admirable mechanics of the Hoover reconstruction program, that there is brought home to the man who still has a job, or still has a farm, or still has a business, this profoundly disturbing question: Shall he, irked because the restoration of full prosperity is not achieved miraculously over night, reject now the program that is insuring his retention of his job, his farm or his business? Shall he dessert the leadership that is now steadily overcoming the ills so painfully present these last three years, only to fly to others that he knows not of?"

"Mainly and essentially," in the opinion of the NEW YORK SUN (Ind.), "he favors the President as standing for continuance of the sound and conservative policies which have characterized Republican leadership in national affairs at every economic crisis. The problem, he said, of 'restoring to normal well-being a great mass of people who find themselves unemployed' cannot be solved by devising 'some form of pauperism,' but only by a return to 'self-respecting, self-supporting and independent existing.' There is nothing glamorous about this remedy, it is not exciting, it does not appeal to wishful thinking. But there are plenty of thoughtful Americans who will agree with Mr. Coolidge that this is the only remedy that will prove ultimately effective."

"Mr. Coolidge made a plea," says the PASADENA STAR-NEWS (Rep.), "that rose above mere political partisanship, a plea which he made honestly and sincerely for the good of his country—that Mr. Hoover be re-elected to carry forward the policies which manifestly are conducive to the material welfare of the entire nation. The Coolidge address should be good for the turning of great numbers of doubting voters to the Republican party in November."

Among those who challenge his position is the MONTGOMERY ADVERTISER (Dem.), which, while stating that "Mr. Coolidge is honest and perhaps that is why his defense of Mr. Hoover and his party is not more than a weak apology," concludes that he "had nothing of importance to say." The NEWARK EVENING NEWS (Ind.) offers the estimate: "After all, elections are not settled by members of one party or another, but by the votes of those

HABIT PLUS LOVE

In a New England village at the end of the railroad line, a combined lunch room and general store has existed for many years. A visitor to the town, always arriving on the noon train, and hungry was surprised to note that just as the train stopped, the owner of the store turned the key in the lock and went leisurely up the street.

It was the only place in the vicinity to eat. On one of his visits he loitered near the store until the owner came back about two o'clock and said to him: "I should think you would keep your lunch room open at noon time, to catch some trade from the train. I noticed several persons today tried to get into the store."

The storekeeper replied: "Stranger, I know all about that. But for forty years my wife has had dinner ready at home at twelve o'clock. I've never missed a meal with her. If I kept this store open 24 hours a day, I'd never be as rich as Rockefeller or Henry Ford, the only men I'm really jealous of. I make a good living as it is, own my home, got a few dollars in the bank, and enjoy eating dinner with my good pal of forty years. That means more than a few extra dollars. Thanks for the suggestion, friend, but I guess I won't change my habits."

British Rule In India Portrayed As Responsibility Discharged With Justice

By LORD READING
British Foreign Secretary

We in England have had to face unanticipated crisis apart altogether from international political complications. In addition to other problems, England was confronted with a serious situation in India. I would ask you to keep in mind the immense complexity of the problem, the burdens of responsibility that rest upon British shoulders, the care they have taken to discharge it with fairness and with justice and with proper regard to the rights of those minorities whom it is their solemn obligation to protect.

If all these considerations are kept in mind we need never fear the judgment of wise and thoughtful men or of those who seek to ascertain the truth, for never shall we be more certain of the conclusion that Britain has done her duty well and nobly.

I honestly believe that the rule of the British in India constitutes one of the most glorious records of the history of the British and is a just source of pride. Heaven forfend that I should suggest that no errors have been committed, but in arriving at a judgment comparison must be made of India as she was and had been throughout the centuries before the British came and India as she is under the present system.

University Head Suggests Setting Up New Profession To Administer Government

By MARION EDWARDS PARK
President Bryn Mawr College.

Our cumbrous, difficult government rests, though the contract point seems infinitesimal, on each citizen and a democracy can rest only on the individual citizens of whom it is made up only in that way. Once out of college, politics may grow from a conscientious interest into much more.

It seems to me, as it does, I think to an increasing number of others, that the first step in the method of handling the difficult national and international affairs to which we are predestined must necessarily be along the line of a return to an expert, free-agent idea in the national legislatures and the executive government offices.

Perhaps a profession can again be built upon a foundation of intelligence and integrity which will attract men and women as the law or medicine does.

Senior High School News

DANCE AIDS BAND

The senior high school 's main hall was colorfully arrayed in its best October dress last night for a Hallowe'en dance sponsored by the band for the benefit of its "Altoona game fund." The proceeds will help finance the musicians' trip there.

Students from every class—sophomores, juniors and seniors—shared the gala time in a hall where pumpkins, corn husks and witches and spooks added colorful effect to the fun. One of the popular features was the country store where the dancers obtained refreshments.

The three hours passed so quickly that when 11 o'clock came most everyone was reluctant to leave. Music was furnished by Betty Rea and her Genevians.

Composing the student committee in charge were Fred Warner, John Phillips and Saul Waldman. They deserve credit for the affair's success, for a considerable amount of money was realized.

MINERAL DISPLAY OPEN

Since October, 1930, when plans were first laid, work has been in progress by the science department for properly housing, identifying, mounting and classifying its mineral collection which heretofore been stored in barrels and boxes in the science storeroom. The great amount of time and effort required for the successful completion of such a great amount of time and effort required for the successful completion of such a project was early realized.

The first necessary step was to procure the case in which the specimens are now housed. An old case was obtained from the west side school, remodeled, refinished and placed in the third floor hallway. Specimens were then hurriedly placed in the case in no definite order, and careful identification made later through the able assistance of Professor W. A. Copeland of the Carnegie Institute of Technology and Carnegie museum; all duplicate specimens being at the same time eliminated.

Suitable specimen blocks for mounting were ordered and obtained in the Benjamin Franklin junior high school shops, and stained black. Labels containing the name, content and formula were typed for all specimens and attached to the blocks. Specimens were then mounted, classified and arranged according to the respective metallic groups. To prevent the labels from becoming soiled and the makings obliterated, a covering of shellac was necessary. As a further precaution against loss of identity of specimens, in case of possible removal from the cabinet, numbering is essential. Numbers were stamped into each block with steel numeral dies, and the corresponding number placed on the specimen by painting a white square with white enamel and then writing on the number with India ink. The entire work has now been completed.

Proper use of mineral specimens is an essential part of science teaching. It is hoped, however, that use of the mineral in the case for general class use will not be necessary except on special occasions for duplicates of nearly all the common minerals are readily available in the stock room. Duplicate specimens for class use can then be reidentified from time to time as necessary by comparing with the originals in the case.

Our classified collection consists of 250 varied specimens, many of which are quite valuable, and represents an addition to the school of which we may well be proud. Few high schools can boast a collection as fine as ours, or so splendidly housed and mounted.

REPORTS DUE HOME

Wednesday, October 19, was an important day for the high school students. The reports were carried around, and by today the parents have passed their judgment. These grades are evidence of how well or how poorly the work has been done. Let's hope they told a favorable story. The teachers have turned over a leaf in their grade books, and we can start a clean record.

BAND AWAITS TRIP

Altoona will be the scene of revenge for the New Castle football team on November 29. Last year Altoona administered a 13-6 defeat to the New Castle boys. The game promises more interest if the band can finance its way to Altoona with the team. Last night's dance helped.

The bands' trip is being made possible by contributions from those interested. Members of the band wish to thank all spectators who contributed money to provide the means for the bands' trip. Any one still wanting to contribute money for the Ne-Ca-Hi band proposition kindly send it to F. L. Orth at the senior high office.

Members of the band wish to thank Charles Freeman, Fred Wolford and Bart Richards for their material contributions. The Ellwood City high school band will combine with the Ne-Ca-Hi band at the football game tonight at Taggart field.

WILLIAM PENN CHAPELS

On October 24 and 25 an assembly will pay honor to William Penn. It will be in the form of a pageant with members of the chorus and glee clubs singing, and prominent students acting the various scenes. It promises to be an unusual and interesting program. The assembly on Monday, October 24, will be for upper classes, the one on Tuesday, October 25, will be for lower classes.

ANNOUNCE PROGRAM

Next week has a full assembly program for Ne-Ca-Hi. On Wednesday, October 26, the occasion will be a "public health day" program sponsored by the Lawrence County Medical society. A prominent speaker will lecture. In the evening the same program will be presented for adults. There will be no admission charge.

GRAD WINS HONOR

Miss Genevra Hazen, former New Castle high school student, now attending Allegheny college, has been honored by her election to the Phi Sigma Iota, national honorary society of romance languages. To be eligible for the honor one must be a junior, and Miss Hazen is just commencing that year. She is one of three elected to the society which in itself is a signified honor.

JUNIORS PLACE ORDERS

Junior A's of the senior high are placing orders for ten-karat gold rings and pins, the standard emblems provided for high school students. New prices are in effect due to a government tax.

who change their minds. Mr. Coolidge spoke as a conservative Republican to conservative Republicans." The DAYTON DAILY NEWS (Ind. Dem.) voices the judgment: "On tariff, party greatness, everything but party-made prosperity, it was the speech which men of his party were making in 1880, in 1884, in 1888 and so on. Anyone who wants an answer to Mr. Coolidge's speech can find it in the editorials of Henry Watterson and the speeches of Allan G. Thurman or Grover Cleveland or Bourke Cockran in the days when the hoopskirt was just on its way out. Except as a matter of archaeological interest, the logic and theories of Mr. Coolidge's speech may be dismissed."

"He recited the Republican ritual without missing a platitude," asserts the FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM (Ind. Dem.). "Therein were contained all of the reminders of a beneficent sun shining on Republicanism, a gentle rain descending upon it, a blanket of exhilarating ozone suspended above it and a harvest moon over all adding a partisanship romance to the trite affairs of everyday existence. One could almost hear the repressed contrast of drouth, flood, cyclone and dark of the moon which are the invariable penalty for a Democrat blighted area. The drip, drip, drip of the enunciative precision might easily have suggested that the sound waves were striking the aerial on the first bounce from the chilly gravestones of the nearest cemetery. But he supported the ticket! What he said was unimportant."

"The speech must have been of some benefit to the Hoover campaign," thinks the CHATTANOOGA NEWS (Ind. Dem.), while pointing out that "it was almost wholly defensive." The ASBURY PARK EVENING PRESS (Ind. Dem.), replying to one of the Coolidge arguments, says that "even if things could be worse, there is no reason for re-electing the man under whose Administration they became as bad as they are." The OMAHA WORLD-HERALD (Ind. Dem.), taking up another phase, argues: "The improper use of the nation's credit, encouraged by boom propaganda statements by Administration leaders, had a more far-reaching and destructive effect on business, agriculture and confidence generally than the 'ordinary run of people' can conceive. What was thereby shattered is the very thing Mr. Coolidge said President Hoover and Administration leaders are now trying to restore. The electorate of the country has no other recourse than to place the blame for our credit collapse squarely on the shoulders of the Republican party and the men at its helm."

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

It doesn't seem so long ago that mushrooms cost something like one buck the pound, in packages at all the best grocers. It was considered the earmarks of good taste or something to have mushrooms when you invited the folks from up the street down to dinner, although half a dozen of them was considered a portion.

That was when mushrooms were hard to get and the stores sold only the ones raised in captivity. This fall there has been a mushroom epidemic and not a day passes but you see a score or more of fellows with a basket full of the tasty morsels.

Meadows, fields and golf courses have been peopled with pickers all fall, and Johnny McKibben claims to hold the outdoor championship for walking, seeking and picking. Yesterday he brought in a pair of mushrooms that looked like an old family umbrella.

Now that hockey has been taken up in a big way by the girls of Shenango Township High School, you may expect a collection of black eyes and bruised shins, both of which will show with about equal clearness in these days of silk hose.

Went by the school yesterday and saw a group of the lassies out on the football field, punishing a puck with those long hooked clubs and it looks to us as though there's a lot of sport and shin polishing ahead. Hockey is a game where you have to be able to take it as well as dish it out.

That portion of the county known as East New Castle is rapidly developing as an oil and gas distributing point. There are three large oil companies with distribution stations located out there, and the total gasoline on hand most of the time amounts to 125,000 gallons. Figuring ten miles to the gallon (or what do you get) there is enough gas to haul you around the world several times.

Huge storage tanks sticking up in the air, are some indication of the amount stored, but there is still a lot of it under the ground.

This is the last night to see football under the chandeliers and the opposition is Ellwood City. From here in to the closing whistle on Thanksgiving, you'll take your football on Saturday afternoon and like it.

Problems Of The Modern Home

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

As for me and my house, we will serve Jehovah.—Josh. 24:15.

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for October 23 is Joshua 24:14, 15; Mark 10:2-12; Eph. 6:1-9, the Golden Text being Joshua 24:15, "As for me and my house, we will serve the Lord.")

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

Many of the problems of the modern home are created before the home is established. If folk (not only young, but old, as well) would give to the establishment of a home the calm, careful and prayerful consideration its importance merits, instead of rushing impulsively and inconsiderately into marriage and the establishment of a home and family, most of the problems of the modern home could either be avoided or provision be made for the solution of those that inevitably arise.

The Sanctity of Marriage

No one who knows his Bible will deny the sanctity it everywhere attributes to marriage as God's own and first ordinance in which a man and a woman covenant to live together in love and faithfulness until separated by death. As such it is much more than a civil ordinance of the state and of society.

Christ's teaching is: "From the beginning of the creation, male and female made he them. For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother and shall cleave to his wife; and the two shall become one flesh; so that they are no more two, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder."

This unity implies that those who seek it shall bring to it a love for one another which shall have its basis not only in physical attraction, but in mental and spiritual attraction as well. Were this more generally done we should go a long way towards solving the ever-increasing problem of divorce.

Household Religion.

Genuine religion in the home will do much to guide its members in the solution of the many problems that inevitably arise in the rearing of a family. An established daily habit of Bible reading and family prayer is the ideal way of cultivating religion in the home.

It will require determination to maintain regularity of such a daily custom. To succeed, one must often say with Joshua's resolutions, "As for men and my house, we will serve the Lord."

It is inexcusable that the home should expect church and school to assume full responsibility to train its children in religion and morals. If the home ignores this training how can children sufficiently be impressed with its importance to appeal to them? The devil is not greatly concerned about religion so long as it is confined to chapels and restricted from homes; when folk begin to bring it from their churches into their home and family life he begins to sit up and take notice.

Family Duties

Christian duty in family life is never one-sided, but rather a two-edged sword. If there are duties for the wife the word of God prescribes corresponding duties to the husband; likewise it prescribes duties to parents as well as to children; and to masters as well as to servants: "Children obey your parents in the Lord: for this is right. Honor thy father and mother (which is the first commandment with promise), that it may be well with thee, and thou mayest live long on the earth. And, ye fahers, provoke not your children to wrath; but nurture them in the chastening and admonition of the Lord."

BASKETBALL SEASON

On Monday, October 24th, the New Wilmington High School basketball champs will start training for the coming season. This year's squad will probably include the following letter men: Captain Bud Sharp, Laurence Kauffman, Axe, Pitzer, McCrumb, Minner and Eagleson. Assisting Coach Hutchison this year will be Ralph Gilliland, former New Wilmington High football and basketball star.

HALLOWE'EN EVENT

Mrs. Anna Rodgers will entertain the members of the Betsyette Club, their husbands and friends at a Hallowe'en party at her home in New Castle, Friday evening, October 21st. Bingo will be the main diversion.

HIGH SCHOOL PARTY

The high school students will hold their annual Who's Who at the Community House tonight. The affair is sponsored by the Junior class and is for high school students only.

THURSDAY CLUB

The Thursday club met yesterday at the home of Mrs. Charles Freeman. Regular business was transacted and later a delicious lunch was served.

NEW WILMINGTON NOTES

Mrs. Jean Myer and family of Greensburg are visiting relatives here.

Miss Esther Davis was the guest of her sister in Sharon on Sunday.

Miss Margaret Smith spent the week end with her sister, Miss Mary Smith at Upper Darby, Pa.

Mrs. Greer Thompson of Cleveland, Ohio, is spending the week with relatives and friends here.

Rheumatism Goes Swollen Joints Vanish

PAIN EASED FIRST DAY

If you suffer from crippling rheumatic aches and pains, Neuritis, Lumbago, lame knotted muscles, swollen inflamed joints, it's because your system is full of the irritating poisons that cause rheumatism.

What you need is RU-MA, the new internal medicine that acts on the blood, liver and kidneys, and helps expel these dangerous poisons from the system through the natural channels of elimination. Only an internal medicine can do this.

No long waiting for your suffering to stop—RU-MA eases pain first day and gives rheumatic sufferers such safe and lasting relief from their stiffening, crippling lameness and torturing pain that it is recommended by druggists everywhere.

Eckerd's and New Castle Drug Co. urges every sufferer to get a $1.00 bottle of RU-MA today, and agrees to return the purchase price if it does not free them from all their aches and pains of rheumatism.

Plan To Present Farce Comedy

Some time early in November, the faculty of Shenango Township Consolidated School will present the play "Ann, What's Her Name." The play is a farce comedy and will be directed by Ronald Brown of the faculty, the proceeds to go towards liquidating the debts against the school orchestra instruments.

The Shenango orchestra has developed splendidly under the tutelage of Prof. Charles G. Lindner, but the cost of instruments was rather heavy and some of this debt remains. Among the faculty members are men and women who had considerable dramatic experience in college and this talent will be utilized in the play. The exact date for the presentation has not yet been set.

Yuga, in Hindu mythology and astronomy, was the name of a long period of years corresponding to an age of the world.

Truck Owners Have Meeting

Problems Are Discussed At Gathering In City Hall

ORGANIZATION IS NOW BEING FORMED

Truck owners and friends of the trucking industry numbering about 125 met in the council chamber of City Hall Thursday evening, heard a number of speakers representing the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association, speak on the necessity of organized support if they wanted to preserve their highway legislation, and at the close of the meeting many of those present signed membership cards in the organization.

The meeting was under the auspices of the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association, with respresentatives of the Pittsburgh Chapter as speakers. Attorney V. J. Thomas told the men present that to influence legislation it was necessary to present an organized front. That the victories already won for trucks had been won because of the work of the Truck Association plus the assistance of such friends as oil companies and companies using trucks to deliver their goods. He warned them that the railroad employes were organizing to back restrictive legislation in the next session of the General Assembly and urged every man present to enlist as a member of the truck association.

Following Mr. Thomas, John A. Harris, president of the Pittsburgh chapter, H. T. Porter, chairman of the Pittsburgh membership committee, R. J. Benkert, a truck fleet owner, Frank Salvatore another fleet owner, and P. T. Walsh, secretary of the Pittsburgh association spoke.

All of them reiterated the importance of membership in the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association and said that the fight had just commenced in the matter of highway legislation. They prophesied that the next session would see a lot of legislation inimical to the truckers interest and that to fight these bills would take men and money.

A number of questions were asked at the conclusion of the meeting and membership blanks passed out to those present, many of which were signed. On November 16, Harold Shertz of Philadelphia, general counsel for the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association will address a mass meeting here.

Congressman Found Guilty Of Slander

Congressman Golder, Philadelphia, Must Pay Sheriff Sum Of $5,000

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 21—Congressman Benjamin M. Golder was under sentence today to pay $5,000 damages to Sheriff Richard Weglein for alleged slanderous remarks made in the hotly contested primary campaign here during which Golder failed of renomination on the Republican ticket in the 4th district.

A jury in court of common pleas found Golder guilty of having libeled and slandered Sheriff Weglein, after eight hours deliberation last night. An award of $5,000 in damages was made. Weglein had sued for $25,000.

An appeal from the award is expected.

TEST WATER AT TOWNSHIP SCHOOL

As a preventative step in the Shenango Township school, the water supply has recently been tested and found to be pure. Some time ago a case of typhoid fever developed in the school and it was first feared that the water might be contaminated. The examination shows the drinking water to be free from taint.

Proper feeding is most essential to the success of a mountain climb, so Mrs. Hettie Dyhrenfurth (above) accompanied her husband, Prof. Dyhrenfurth of Zurich, Switzerland, on the first international Himalayan Expedition as "housewife" of the party. PRICE OF STEEL RAILS IS CUT

Believed Forerunner Of Large Increase In Steel Rail Buying

(International News Service)

NEW YORK Oct. 21—With a reduction in the price of steel rails in effect today, major railroads were expected to enter the market immediately with purchases which may agreegate several million dollars.

The Carnegie Steel Company, subsidiary of the United States Steel Corporation, so far was the only one to make announcement of the slash in prices from $43 to $40 a ton on the steel rails.

Others were likely to take similar action within a few days. Eugene G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, said his concern would meet prices set by competitors.

A conference between Myron C. Taylor and Eastern Ohio presidents preceded the price cut.

Suspect Not In New Castle Area

Pittsburgh Sleuth Says He is Not Looking Here For "Big Mike"

PITTSBURGH, Pa. Oct. 21—Lieutenant Frank Ferris of the homicide squad last night denied he was preparing to send men into the New Castle district in search of Guiseppe (Big Mike) Spinello, who was indicted two months ago for slaying "Prince Johnny" Volpe and his brothers, Arthur and Jimmy, in a racket feud.

Ferris, who also denied he had a woman eye-witness to the Volpe killing two weeks before he admitted to a coroner's jury that it was a woman eye-witness' testimony on which he based his charge against Spinello, said reports were untrue which said he had received a "tip" that Spinello was seen in the vicinity of New Castle.

"I not only didn't get any such tip, but I don't believe he is there" Ferris cautiously added.

It has been reported that Homicide Detective Frank Dodson, William Harris, Al Grayber and Harry Scott were being held at headquarters ready for a quick automobile trip to the Lawrence county seat if the report was verified.

DEATH OF COUPLE CAUSES ODD SUIT

DETROIT, Mich.—Equal division of a $25,000 estate was ordered by Probate Judge Ervin R. Palmer today after two sets of heirs threatened to fight for it until administrators fees reduced it to pennies.

Abe Lookman and his wife, Ida, were killed two years ago when their automobile was hit by a train. Both were dead when rescuers reached the scene.

Relatives of each claimed the $25,000 estate. On the husband's side relatives contended the woman, being of the weaker sex, died first, but her heirs claimed the man had heart trouble and probably succumbed first.

The judge finally ordered the equal division and said he would ask the next legislature to pass a law covering such a situation.

Lyon Says Y. M. C. A. Is Filling Larger Field Here At Present Time

That the Y. M. C. A. is proving of greater need and is filling a larger field of usefulness during the present period, is the assertion of George E. Lyon, president of the board of directors of that institution.

The Y. M. C. A. is one of the agencies benefited by the Community Chest, and will participate in the coming Community Chest as it has in the past.

Mr. Lyon here explains the purposes of the organization and some of the things it has done during the past year:

"The Young Men's Christian Association is primarily a religious organization—its program of religious work is not one of many departments but benefits all departments. The New Castle Y. M. C. A. has a four-fold appeal; spiritual, educational, social and physical. Spiritually; the members are called upon to see to it that the association is in fact, what it is in name 'a Christian Association.'

Educationally; the Y. M. C. A. promotes through its clubs for men and boys discussions of educational topics. It also brings in business and professional men to present all kinds of educational subjects to these men and boys.

"Socially: It conducts programs of social work within the building and seeks also to serve socially the young men and boys of the community. The Association comes into relations with all social conditions, sources and agencies affecting the lives of the young men and boys of this community.

"Physically; it promotes clean sports and athletics among young men, providing scientific physical education and athletics on a clean character building basis and develops its plan by training volunteer leadership. Thus the Y. M. C. A. is not a building of brick and mortar, but continually building the mind and spirit and body.

"The faith of our local Y. M. C. A. extends not only to the man and boy but to the entire family. This is evident especially through the work of groups such as the Hi-Y, Fathers and Sons and Mothers and Sons joint activities and also by the work that is being done by the schools and churches.

"This organization cannot be classed as a hotel or a club. It is an association of men and controlled by a board of directors of prominent citizens whose ideal is to develop in this community a broader sense of civic consciousness and to prepare for the greater New Castle of tomorrow, greater leadership and greater followers.

"The Y. M. C. A. is not self-supporting, it has no reason to be so, it was never designed to be so. If only the supervision of the building that stands on the square were required it might easily be self-supporting. Supervision is important and the Y. M. C. A. has that, but to promote a varied program within the building for the many different groups among its membership and to extend its program into every phase of community life requires extra funds which the membership fees do not maintain, nor can the building features provide the necessary funds with which to accomplish this work.

"When the call came from Harrisburg last January to fill a need for an Employment Headquarters to handle the relief employment problem in this district, the directors of the local Y. M. C. A. gladly offered the equipment and personel of the Association. Since that time the general secretary of our local Association has devoted a considerable part of his time to these state projects such as the Pymatuning camps, Wurtemburg bridge and road work. He has registered about five thousand men for these employment relief projects and since last January has been able to aid in relief and other employment one thousand and seventy one men of this district.

"It is my honest belief that the local Young Men's Christian Association is now filling a larger field of usefulness in this community through its Physical, Religious, Social, Educational and Employment activities than at any time in its history."

CHOOSE CHURCH IN PLACE OF JAIL

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Oct. 21.—A minister and many of his congregation thought a miracle had happened when a group of boys filed into the church with bowed heads and sat reverently in the pews throughout the services. It developed that Patrolman Lyle McCullough had received complaints about boys annoying the worshippers, so when he came upon the gang he compelled them to attend services or submit to arrest.

There were 1,504 soldiers killed at the Battle of Bunker Hill, both British and American.

Allegheny Men At Trustees' Session

Meadville College 'Alumni Week' Draws Locals; Full Program Today

Allegheny College's annual "Alumni Homecoming Week", now in progress on the Meadville campus, was marked today by a meeting of the school's board of trustees, an academic procession, a tea for women this afternoon and a general inspection of the school property by the officials.

In attendance for the board session are Dr. Norris A. White, new pastor of the First M. E. church, and Dr. W. A. Womer, Highland avenue, both members. Miss Mary White, Dr. White's sister, and Mrs. Womer accompanied them.

With an address by Andrew W. Robertson, Pittsburgh, the Allegheny board chairman and chairman of the board of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company, as the highlight feature of the day, the trustees and returning alumni were due for a busy program.

At 10:45 o'clock this morning the academic procession started and then Mr. Robertson's message was heard. A dinner for trustees and their wives in newly renovated Cochran hall immediately followed, with the board convening after dinner. Lady guests were to enjoy a tea this afternoon in Huling's hall.

Shenango Pupils Being Examined

With the idea of preventing the outbreak of any disease, and also to ascertain the physical condition of the students of the Shenango Township school, Dr. G. E. Seal is engaged at the present time in examining the students in all the grades up to and including the ninth.

The general health of the school at present is excellent but it is the opinion of the supervising principal, Glenn W. Johnston and Dr. Seal that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure and the examination is preceeding upon that theory

Boy On Bicycle Runs Into Auto

Fortunately The Boy Escapes Serious Injury In The Case

S. W. Douthitt, of 122 Edison avenue, was enroute north on Highland avenue and making a turn to go west on Edison avenue, as Joe Fisher of R. D. No. 3 was riding a bicycle south on Highland avenue, ran into the rear fender of the Douthitt machine and was knocked to the ground. He was removed to the Jameson Memorial hospital, where it was found that he had escaped serious injury.

Bernice E. Welker, of R. D. No. 2 was enroute south of Jefferson St. at North street yesterday as A. J. Phipps, Jr., of Harrisville, Pa. came north on Jefferson street and turned west on North street. The result was that the two machines came together and were damaged to some extent. No one was injured.

ROSE OF SHARON CLASS HAS PARTY

Hilarity ran high Thursday evening in the Croton Avenue Methodist church when the Rose of Sharon class entertained the members of the class and friends at a Hallowe'en party.

A motley group entered the church and after wandering about a while as "mummers" the best make-ups were selected and prizes awarded, and the group unmasked and a period of games ensued, after which they were entertained with a mock trial.

Clarence Reiber acted as judge, Vane Johns and John Wilson as attorneys, Tom Hinkson, court crier and Frank Doerr as policeman. Mrs. E. C. Nolan, Mrs. Jessie Beck and Miss Leona Nolan were the denfendants and much amusing repartee was bandied about the improvised court room.

A cake walk was won by Mrs. Ed Blaine and after this amusing walk, refreshments were served.

Junior P. H. C. Party

The Junior members of the Protected Home Circle held their Hallowe'en party Wednesday evening in Malta hall from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock with approximately sixty participating.

The guests attended in masquerade, and a program of games, stunts and contests filled in the hours with Lemmil Wine, Stanley Witherspoon and James Rice in charge. Prizes were won by Vera Scheodemantle, Woodrow Allen, Barbara Yoho and Bobby Jaxtheimer for the clever and comic costumes.

Lunch as served at the dining room table, by the refreshment committee, namely, Beryl Morgan, June Dufford and Franklin Rice.

Judges for the evening included Mr. and Mrs. Will Stevenson, W. H. Ward, the deputy, and Mrs. Margaret Gilliland.

A feature of the entertainment was a treasurer hunt and the prize was presented to Harry Reed Ray.

Mrs. William Back, counsellor, and Mrs. E. B. Ray, assistant, were in charge of the affair.

A. G. P. Club

Mrs. Matthew Tripp, Highland avenue, entertained the A. G. P. Club members Wednesday evening with cards as the main diversion. As a special guest Mrs. Jack Pitzer was in attendance.

Prizes were won by Mrs. John Knox and Mrs. J. C. Rhodabaugh at the close of the evening.

On Wednesday, Nov. 2, Mrs. Edel on Shaw street will be hostess.

At Sharpsville Meeting

Mrs. E. B. Ray, Mrs. William Back and son, Mr. and Mrs. James Golensky, Mrs. Thomas Cowels, Mrs. Kathryn Gilliland, Mr. and Mrs. David Tucker and Harry Millman motored to Sharpsville and attended the meeting and program given by P. H. C. Circle No. 3 members in observance of their 46th anniversary.

O. D. 500 Club

The O. D. 500 Club members were guests of Mrs. Albert Richards Thursday evening on Scott street. The hours were occupied with a cards contest, Mrs. Clyde Stevens, Mrs. George Price and Mrs. Shields being awarded the prizes. Bingo and fortune telling also were features.

This marked their Hallowe'en event and each member was privileged to take a guest, which included Mrs. Harry Stevens, Mrs. Watkins, Mrs. Shaffer, Mrs. James Mariacher, Mrs. Hilda Gillett, Mrs. Shields of this city and from Warren, O., were Mesdames Clark and Phrone.

The hostess was assisted in serving lunch by Mrs. Russell Crane at a late hour, the menu appointments suggesting the present season.

Mrs Crane will have club in her home on Harrison street November 2.

W. M. L. H. Club

Miss Ethel Uber of Lathrop street extended hospitality to her associates of the W. M. L. H. club Wednesday evening at her home. A tureen dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock and after a short business period the hours were filled in with a contest in cards. Miss Freda Ungar and Mrs. Joe McCaskey were successful in winning the prizes.

On Saturday evening they will participate at a Hallowe'en part in the home of Mrs. McCaskey on North Mill street.

Whatsoever Girls

A monthly meeting of the Whatsoever Girls of the Baptist church was held at the home of Miss Rosalee S. Ward of East Washington street last night. A shower was held for Miss Miller. Taper candles, and flowers were used for decorative purposes. A Hallowe'en party is planned for the next meeting.

In Religious and Fraternal Circles

The M. K. Class Meeting

The M. K. Class of the Peoples Mission on Sampson street met at the home of Mrs. Charles Stoner on Forrest street, Thursday with eleven being in attendance.

After the regular business routine, election of officers occurred with the following results: Mrs. R. Owrey, president; Mrs. Parks, vice president; Mrs. Dout, secretary; Mrs. Houk, treasurer; Mrs. Stoner, publicity. Mrs. Black and Mrs. Hare were appointed on the visiting committee and Mrs. McClelland, Mrs. Murphy and Mrs. Cain will be in charge of the entertainment for the year.

Mrs. Olga Black, Sampson street, will receive the members at their next meeting to take place November 17.

Class Organizes.

The Men's Bible class of the First Free Methodist Sunday school, Arlington avenue, organized and elected the following officers for the year:

President, Paul McGaffic; vice-president, Harry Hetrick; secretary, Harry Cochran; treasurer, Arnold Evans.

Committees were appointed and work outlined for the year. A room will be finished in the basement of the church which will make splendid quarters for the class and will be used for meetings by other organizations of the church.

The pastor, Rev. George Burke, 765 Arlington avenue, is teacher of the class.

Weaver Circle

Mrs. Grace Crill, Adams street, was hostess to the members of the Weaver Circle of the Epworth Methodist church in her home Thursday evening, with Mrs. Florence Cartwright leading the devotionals.

The program of the evening was on China, with Mrs. Crill reading a paper on the "Village Woman" and Florence Thompson, "A Chinese Wedding Feast".

The report of the Mt. Lebanon convention was given by Mrs. E. O. Alexander, Miss Grace Stitziner and Mrs. H. L. McCurdy.

Mrs. McCurdy presided at the business meeting and the program for the year was mapped out.

Aid Meeting

The members of the Ladies Aid Society of the Zion Lutheran church motored to Portersville Thursday afternoon and were entertained in the home of Mrs. C. A. Forsberg for the monthly meeting.

Rev. J. W. Eckman led the devotional opening and the business session was presided over by Mrs. Eckman.

After routine business a social time was enjoyed and the hostess served delicious refreshments.

Standard Bearers

At the meeting of the Standard Bearers in First Methodist church Thursday evening four new members were enrolled and the banner was displayed, which was won for standards of high efficiency at the conference at Blacktown last week.

Esther Jane Caven presided at the business meeting and plans for the next few months were discussed.

Open Door Class.

Members of the Open Door Bible class of the Third U. P. church began the fall activities Thursday evening with a meeting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Millison, Maryland avenue.

The business session was in charge of Harold Brown and many fall activities were planned, principally the Hallowe'en party, which will be held Friday, October 28, at the church.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Minick, Clarence Bixler and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Banks and children.

Mrs. Banks aided the hostess in serving a most tempting lunch.

Willing Workers' Class

Mrs. Robert Barclay, County Line street, entertained the members of the Willing Workers' class of the Second United Presbyterian church, of which Mrs. C. E. Book is teacher, Thursday evening in her home, with Frances Craig as associate.

Games and contests of a Hallowe'en nature kept the merriment running high and the winners of prizes were Elsie and Leola Johnson.

Refreshments expressive of the holiday were served.

Entertains Section

Mrs. Ray Lindsey, East Washington street, was hostess to the members of Section C of the Y. L. B. class of the Third United Presbyterian church Thursday evening with Mrs. Arthur Wehr leading the devotional opening and Mrs. Allen Cartwright the business session, when plans were made for a Hallowe'en party at the home of Mrs. Arthur Wehr, Huron avenue, November 3.

Mrs. Will Smock aided the hostess in serving refreshments.

G. H. M. Class

The G. H. M. Class of the Central Presbyterian church began the fall activities with a tureen dinner in the church dining room Thursday with Mrs. William Anderson, Mrs. William Book and Mrs. Pearl Byers as hostesses. Mrs. C. B. Wingerd and Mrs. A. Evans were special guests.

After business had been transacted the time was given over to games and contests of a Hallowe'en nature.

Ladies' Association

A noon time luncheon featured the meeting of the Ladies Association of the First United Presbyterian church Thursday, with the long tables lovely with centerpieces of calendulas and bachelor buttons.

Mrs. Harvey Robinson, Mrs. Frank Dewberry, Mrs. H. C. Mitchell and Mrs. John Ingham were hostesses.

Miss Minnie Sterling called a business meeting after luncheon and plans were discussed for the winter activities.

Mrs. M. E. Miller, Lincoln avenue, will be hostess on November 17.

L. L. O. I. Party

Members of Martha Washington Lodge 24 of the L. L. O. I. had a splendid social evening Thursday, beginning with a tureen dinner at 6 o'clock, with covers arranged for eighteen.

Following dinner Mrs. Chauncey Davis called a business meeting, when plans were made for a Hallowe'en party on November 3 with Mrs. Rachel Reynolds in charge of arrangements.

A white elephant exchange created a great deal of merriment and bingo held the group's attention, with prizes awarded Mrs. Agnes Watson, Mrs. Elizabeth Warwick, Mrs. Rachel Reynolds and Bernetta Houston.

Banquet Church League Champions

Knights Of St. Vitus, 1932 Mushball League Champions Fete At Gebbia's

STRIZZI PRESENTS PLAQUE TO KNIGHTS

Knights of St. Vitus, champions of the City Church league were feted last night at a banquet held at Gebbia's, Fairmont avenue. Carm Sacco was toastmaster and about two score persons were present. The Knights were presented by Emil Strizzi with a plaque reading: "It isn't the fact that you won the game but only how you played it."

Promptly at 7:30 p. m. the officers of the mushball team, players, chairman of the commission, Rev. G. S. Bennett, Christian church, and special guests filed into the spacious festive hall and sat down. Mr. Sacco called upon Rev. Bennett who pronounced grace and within a few moments the Italian dinner which consisted of many courses was attacked.

Olives, meats, soup and then the spaghetti and meatballs, prepared as only those with the Italian finesse can prepare it arrived. Platters brimful appeared and disappeared and following in its wake, endives in salad, "gloves" coffee and what not.

After the inner man had been satisfied the toastmaster explained the reason for the banquet and introduced Frank Mack, coach of the championship team. He recited the woes during the first half and of the joys of the second half and the ultimate capturing of the championship. Captain Buddy Marino followed the coach.

Pleased With Team.

He expressed himself as immensely pleased with the team having won the title and said that there was credit sufficient for all. He opined that the Knights had the best mushball team in the league. Frederick Natale, mascot, recited an appropriate poem, declaring he was "too short" to play on the team, explaining that by this he meant short nine years, as he is only nine now.

Bill Nocera thanked the Knights of St. Vitus for their support and the players for their co-operation. He also thanked the Y. M. C. A. for the sportsmanship displayed toward the Knights. President Vitus Conti thanked the members for their sportsmanship throughout the season but expressed as his opinion the belief that mushball in time will not do young men as good as baseball.

He said economical reasons mainly were responsible for the popularity of mushball. He said that in baseball a young men had a chance which might aid him through school. He declared that "mushball is not the right kind of a game for strong boys like you are.

Conti thanked the Y. M. C. A. and extolled Rev. Bennett who as chairman of the commission was found very fair in all matters. Dave Valiensi, one of the best known sportsmen in the city was next introduced. He told how he had watched many of the boys on the titular team from the time they wore knee breeches until now and of the progress they had made in athletics.

Perfect Harmony.

He said that one of the outstanding reasons for the success on the mushball field of the Knights lay in perfect harmony and gave praise unstintingly to the officers of the team and league officials. He went back for the 15 past years and recited athletics, amateur and professional and told of the part Ed. Fritz as News Sports Editor had played in helping to put over sports successfully.

Rev. G. S. Bennett, pastor of Christian church, named by the Ministerial Association as chairman of the board of commissioners for the league was introduced by the toastmaster, Mr. Sacco, and told the athletes how delighted he was to be present at the banquet and that he enjoyed the Italian dinner immensely. He then spoke of his position as the commission chairman.

He told of his fondness for athletics, stating that he was born in Australia and in his day had played cricket. He displayed his fingers which were gnarled from catching. When he came to our country he took to baseball and football. Rev. Bennett coached college athletics and was well known as a tutor of drop kicking. He is still a good tennis player despite the fact he is no longer a youth.

Presents Plaque.

Rev. Bennett explained the reason why no trophy was awarded by the Y. M. C. A. He said that the mushball league was not a Y. M. C. A. project but was sponsored by the churches and that while the Y. M. C. A. did sponsor a basketball team they did not the mushball body. He said, however, that Henry McNicholas had courteously and efficiently acted as secretary.

He congratulated the Knights of St. Vitus upon winning the title and said he was interested in the young of the city and was glad to do any thing he could to further athletics. Ed. Fritz of The New Castle News was the next spokesman and shed light on the publicity side of athletics, explaining the role a sports writer had to adopt in presenting reports to the public.

Emil Strizzi was the next spokesman. He told of the spirit that permeated the team during the season and then must to the surprise of the players presented to the manager a plaque reading: "Knights of St. Vitus, champions of the Church Mushball League. It isn't the fact you played the game but only how you played it."

The presentation was greeted with applause and the plaque is to be suspended in the rooms of the organization. Following further remarks of an appropriate nature the banqueteers departed to gather around the stove this winter to recall plays that were made during the season, games that were won and lost and look forward to next season.

Bessemer Club Holds Fish Fry

Jared B. Reis Tells Of Cost In Game Caused By Hawks

BESSEMER, Pa., Oct. 21.—One hundred and twenty-five members of the Bessemer Rod & Gun club last night enjoyed a fish fry which was served in the auditorium of the high school. The fish were fried by Al Turner of Ellwood City. There were plenty of fish and the affair was highly enjoyed.

Jared B. Reis, former member of the Pennsylvania fish commission, was a spokesman. He spoke on what it costs in game to feed the northern hawks which come into this section. His address was greatly appreciated.

Six reels of pictures of hunting were displayed. They were sent to the Bessemer club by the game commission of Pennsylvania. The pictures made a "hit" with the hunters and fishermen.

AMATEUR TOREADOR WINS FROM BULL

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Oct. 21.—Necessity turned Ted Tracy, farmer youth, in a gallant toreador.

Tracy and his brothers, Cleo and Fred, were milking their cows when a bull from a neighboring farm entered the lot.

Ted grabbed a pitchfork, parried with the bull, sidestepped and finally chased it out of the lot. The next day George Wilkerson reported to the county attorney that someone had killed his bull. It was found dead in his pasture.

Over 750 Attend City Night School

Figures For First Week Of Unemployed School Sessions Shows 757

Attendance figures for the first week of the unemployed night school which has been conducted in the North street and Lincoln-Garfield schools show a remarkable total. According to figures made public today by Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools, the attendance for the first week is 757 and this total includes but three nights for Lincoln-Garfield, the school not starting there until Tuesday night.

Some of the pupils figured in the attendance totals undoubtedly were in more than one class but Dr. Green estimates that the enrollment would run between 500 and 600.

Totals of Studies.

The totals of group studies show interesting figures. In the English group in both schools, which includes grammar, writing, spelling, English grammar, literature, composition and public speaking, 221. In the mathematics group, which includes arithmetic, geometry and trigonometry, 123. Foreign languages, Spanish, German, French, 83; social sciences, 35; miscellaneous, 209; business practice, 46; biology, 30; vocal music, 10.

Thursday evening classes in the North street school showed 74 in the arithmetic class taught by J. W. Anderson, English literature taught by Miss Agnes Webster 10, economics taught by O. J. Sheaffer 15, German taught by Miss Mary Riffer 31.

In the Lincoln-Garfield school 9 students were in the Latin class taught by Miss May Eakin, 9 in the writing class taught by Miss Mildred Undegraff, 48 in the psychology class taught by Miss Adeline Miller and 10 in the vocal music class taught by Miss Margaret Preston.

No more classes will be held in the unemployed night school until next Monday evening when the classes will resume in each school.

Structural Steel Prices Discussed

Menace Of Heavy Imports Of Foreign Steel Up For Discussion At Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 21.—Regulation of structural steel prices and the creation of new markets to overcome the menace of heavy imports of foreign steel came up for discussion at the closing session of the American Institute of Steel Construction here today.

Election of officers and the choice of a 1933 convention site will be completed late today.

The low levels of steel prices, which frequently are barely more than the cost of production, brought a warning from Charles F. Abbott of New York.

"Industry must clean its own house or invite the government to do it," he stated. "The revival of the spirit of live and let live would do much to solve our problem."

Abbott warned delegates that taking orders for steel without profit is not business. This came after Charles N. Fitts of Boston revealed many concerns were cutting prices and using their capital and credit to keep operating.

Senator Borah Is Campaigning

Speaks In Idaho In Behalf Of U. S. Senator, John Thomas

(International News Service)

REXBURG, Idaho, Oct. 21.—United States Senator William E. Borah penetrated the heart of Idaho's agricultural district today, continuing campaign speeches for his colleague, United States Senator John Thomas, convalescing at Boise from an attack of typhoid fever.

Senator Borah declared here last night that "you can only expect a prosperous condition for yourselves through the restoration of foreign markets." He declared neither major political party offered the farmers any way out, in attacking farm relief programs.

When asked concerning his attitude toward President Hoover, Borah replied:

"If the cause I am advocating fits Hoover, I'm glad of it. If it doesn't I'm still for it. I may be mistaken, but I think I'm advocating Republicanism."

How Low Priced Steel Imported From Abroad Knocks Out U. S. Jobs

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Competition of low priced steel products from Belgium Luxemburg, Germany and France, will cost 444,700 American steel and allied industry workers a week's labor this year, Charles H. Charls of New York, assistant to Robert P. Lamont of the American Iron and Steel Institute, testified before Customs Commissioner F. X. A. Eble on Thursday.

The steel industry demanded the anti-dumping act of 1921 be put into immediate force to protect it from a competition which one witness said is "driving us to bankruptcy". The general charge pertained to the sale of foreign steel products in United States at prices far less than they can be manufactured by domestic mills. Charls testified that 237,000 men in the steel industry proper lost a week's work last year because of unfair foreign competition. Thousands of others were driven out of work in raw material and transportation industries, he said. On the basis of 205,152 tons of steel imported n the first half of this year, 17,788,590 man-hours of labor will be lost to America in 1932.

"Nothing more aptly illustrates the results of dumping from foreign countries," Charls declared. Thomas J. Doherty of New York, counsel for the American Iron and Steel Institute, said that treasury regulations are so framed that the damage is done to domestic industry before even a temporary remedy may be applied. He referred to the volumes of red tape involved in dumping investigation.

"It must be proven beyond doubt that dumping has taken place before the government can take even preliminary action," Doherty said. "This is not the spirit of the law. I think the secretary of the treasury is empowered to require bonds on imports when he is satisfied that dumping is practiced, pending a final investigation and dumping order."

Evidence was presented to show that in Belgium common labor is paid 75 cents a day in the steel industry and that rollers receive $1.75 to $2 compared with 33 cents an hour for labor in United States and from $8 to $12 for rollers.

W. H. Johnston of the Bethlehem Steel Co., testified that structural steel that costs $40 a ton to produce in American mills is sold in this country by foreign producers for $20 to $22 a ton. He declared that the steel industry is not making operating expenses. Doherty interjected that the industry is going in the red $30,000,000 a quarter.

Continuing, Johnston said the American industry does not have the adequate protection afforded in Canada, Germany and other countries. If no foreign steel had been imported last year two thousand additional men could have been given half time employment at the Bethlehem plants in Buffalo, Baltimore and near Philadelphia, according to Johnston.

Harry A. Black of Galveston, Tex., hardware distributor and barbed wire manufacturer, said he had stopped producing wire, and was importing that product for his trade because he could not meet the foreign prices.

For the first time in history Japan has become an exporter of iron, having offered 300,000 tons in this market, John W. Logan of Conshohocken, Pa., representing the pig iron industry of Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and New Jersey, declared. Logan asked that should a dumping order be issued, that iron and "pigs" be included. British India and the Netherlands, as well as Japan, are exporting to this country.

Planes Can Land Here During Dark

Six 1,000 watt lights, purchased by the city of New Castle, have been installed by Boyles & Milsom at the New Castle airport, according to Director of City Parks Louis Genkinger. The light have been grouped and when a plane wishes to land at night sufficient illumination can be had. The city paid $25, for each of the six lights. Boyles & Milsom, airport owners, will pay for the maintenance.

The lights will not be illuminated all night. Whenever anyone at the airport (and there are always one or two attendants there) or any citizen hears a plane motor humming above the city at night, he can telephone to the airport and the attendant or attendants will turn on the lights and the pilot can either judge his direction from the lights or land at the local field.

HOOVER'S LEADERSHIP

Elitor News:

We have heard that Mr. Hoover's Reconstruction Finance Corporation was for the benefit of the big corporations. He has contended that it was for the benefit of the smaller man and that it is functioning so as to help him. The truthfulness of his statement is shown in the Washington United States Daily of October 10, 1932, where the items are enumerated.

These items show that there were 1022 Banks and Trust Companies in almost every State in the Union helped in the allocation of funds during August 1932. Among these were 43 Banks in receivership. Most of the advances were in sums of less than $100,000. Iowa had the greatest number; namely, 100. In addition to these there were 128 Building and Loans Associations: 10 Insurance Companies; 9 Mortgage Loan Companies; 1 Joint Stock Land Bank; 6 Agricultural Credit Corporations: 8 Live Stock Credit Corporations and 13 Railroads, as follows:

Banks and Trust Co. (including Receivers)	$85,057,605.43
Building and Loan Associations	12,294,188.87
Insurance companies	3,708,700.00
Mortgage Loan Companies	2,101,720.00
Federal Land Banks	3,000,000,00
Joint Stock Land bank	55,000.00
Agricultural Credit Corporations	594,021.62
Live Stock Credit Corporations	2,667,822.98
Railroads (including Receivers)	12,798,583.00
Totals	$122,277,641.90

Thus Mr. Hoover's contention is verified and when one looks over the list of Bank and Trust Companies helped, it is patent to any person that a very large proportion of these applications came from the outlying Districts and with 100 of them in Iowa alone, it is also evident that the farmer was no small beneficiary.

This Reconstruction Finance Corporation was Mr. Hoover's thought It is doing all that it should have been expected to do, thus demonstrating the wisdom of his thought line in averting further disaster. The Departments report an increase in car loadings October 6th over the preceeding week of 3561 cars and an increase in labor employment of 3.6 per cent for September over August.

As to his saving of the Chicago bank situation when he had an open line on the telephone for twelve long hours and saved the Banks of Chicago when the run on them—if continued—would have brought disaster to the whole financial situation of the United States, demonstrates that he is not only a man of clear thought, but a leader as well. His ideas as to gradual reconstruction of the business of the Country are coming along in splendid shape particularly will one recognize that if they have been to Europe and seen what I have seen there during the past summer.

The criticisms made against President Hoover are no worse—if as bad—than those which were made against Abraham Lincoln in the Campaign of 1864. The good sense of the American people averted the disaster which unquestionably would have happened had he been defeated at that time. Let us hope that the good judgment of the American people will again avert the disaster which would happen at this time if President Hoover should be defeated.

Very respectfully yours,
THOMAS LIGGETT

Trinity Players Score Big Hit

Present Three Act Comedy That Enthuses Good Audience

Trinity players, a group of talented local players, in presenting the three act comedy "The Family Upstairs" by Harry Delf, in Trinity Church guildroom last night, scored a decided hit with the members of the large audience so fortunate as to be present and witness the affair. Miss Betty Glover was director of the play, which was presented under the auspices of the Men's Club of Trinity church.

The comedy, in which is portrayed home life in the average American home, was presented in such a perfect manner that its purpose, that of keeping the audience in a gale of enthusiastic merriment from the start to the finish was accomplished.

In it were shown the designing mother, the daughter who desires to manage her own love affairs, the father, who just naturally breaks forth at the wrong moment, the little brother and sister, who add to the misery of the average older sister, the young man in love and his mother.

The stage appointments were perfect. The cast of characters portrayed are:—Joe Heller, the father—Harry Culliford; Emma Heller, the mother—Evelyn Pearson; Louise Heller, the elder sister—Helen Lyle; Willie Heller, the brother—Jimmie Smith; Annabelle, the baby sister—Hazel Barrett Rogan: Charles Grant—Dudley Arnold: Mrs. Grant, his mother—Helen Grotefend: Herbert his brother—Frank Robinson; Miss Calahan—Lois Davenport.

Mother-Daughter Accuse Five Men Of Grave Charges

Florida Mother Says Men Dragged Them In Woods, Flogged, For Selling Liquor

(International News Service)

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 21.—Alleging they were accused of selling liquor, flogged and warned to leave the neighborhood, a mother and a daughter here today caused the arrest of five men on charges of assault to murder.

Mrs. Sallie Gehringer, 38, and her daughter, Ola Bell Gilstray, 20, told police they were abducted by five men Tuesday night, taken into the woods and flogged with leather straps.

After beating them, the women said, the men accused them of selling whisky and ordered them to vacate their house and leave the neighborhood.

The five men named in the warrants, W. A. Jackson, C. C. Rabb, E. M. Rabb, L. C. Bowers and Horace Starling, declared they knew nothing of the charges.

Hitler Program Is Attacked By Press

German Newspapers Forced To Print Under Suppression, Attack On Hitler

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Oct. 21.—Newspapers throughout Germany were forced to print today, under threat of suppression ,a sensational government statement sharply attacking the published program of Adolf Hitler, which denounced the policies of Chancellor Franz Von Papen.

The statement branded the Fascist open letters on the government's foreign policy as containing assertions "wholly untrue" and, therefore ,misrepresenting the government's aims and "damaging to the interests of the German people."

Assassination Of Hungarian Regent Foiled By Police

Three Men Are Arrested In Apartment Together With Bomb Making Apparatus

(International News Service)

VIENNA, Oct. 21.—A plot to assassinate Admiral Nicholas Horthy, Regent of Hungary, was discovered in Budapest today, according to reports.

Police raided a fashionable apartment and arrested three men. Bomb-making appartus was reported found in the place.

An official announcement said the prisoners were held merely on charges of "conspiracy against the safety of the state." But apparently reliable dispatches declared the plotters had planned to assassinate Horthy by hurling a bomb at him as he passed through the street.

Unemployed State Riot In England

Unemployed Marchers On Way To London Stage Riot At Stratford-On-Avon

(International News Service)

STRATFORD-ON-AVON, England, Oct. 21.—This historic town, birthplace of Shakespeare, today was the scene of the latest of a series of unemployed riots which have shaken the British Isles for the past few weeks.

More than 300 hunger marchers, enroute to London for a huge demonstration planned there, wrecked the Stratford Poor House after refusing to accept the usual poorhouse breakfast of bread, margarine, and tea. The marchers were from Manchester.

Police riot squads engaged in a bitter fight with the unemployed before order was restored. Several were injured, including both police and rioters.

The marchers then continued on to London under a police escort.

Senate Probers Start Hearings

Facts Surrounding Public Utilities Of State To Be Investigated

UTILITY LEADERS CALLED TO TESTIFY

By WILLIAM B. BROWN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Oct. 21.—In the first public hearing since its creation, the Rial senate committee today was to start exploration of the jungle of face and fiction which has grown up about the public utilities in the state.

The first trail it is expected to follow into the jungle deals largely with "who paid who and how much." That trail is not entirely unmarked. Gov. Gifford Pinchot has charged that the utility companies paid hospital bills for W. D. B. Ainey, late chairman of the Public Service Commission. Ainey is dead, as is A. W. Thompson, Pittsburgh utility magnate, accused of having paid the bill.

The Governor has charged James S. Benn with having banked a small fortune while sitting as a member of the commission at $10,000. Benn is very much alive but no longer a member of the commission.

Three executives of the Philadelphia company which Thompson headed were expected to appear at today's hearing and submit to questioning regarding how accounts were kept in the period when money seemed to be available for entertainment and hospital bills.

Committee members know that unless questionable entries appear on existent books of utility companies it will be difficult to trace actual payment of cash funds for other than legitimate purposes.

After it completes an effort to trace illegal payments of cash funds to public officials the committee expects to explore another very difficult trail. That one deals with alleged exhorbitant rates which the utilities have been permitted to charge.

During the regular session of the legislature in 1931 both senate and house committees conducted separate manhunts into the utility jungle. The only apparent result was some hundreds of reports which are gathering dust in the capitol basement.

Meanwhile, the committee today has before it a letter from Governor Pinchot in which he reminds it that it is "on trial" and that "if the people of Pennsylvania are to have any confidence in the senate investigating committee that confidence will have to be won."

The Governor's current blast questioning the good faith of the committee was contained in a letter in which he promised to present the results of his own investigation for its use. The Governor's letter was indefinite regarding the time when he will present his own findings, explaining that the data he has will have to be analyzed.

Many troops in the nation are waging war on this pest.

Directed Verdict In Hospital Case

Smith-Faris Company Is Awarded $5,077.34 In Suit Over Plumbing

Under instructions of Judge R. L. Hildebrand at court this morning the jury in the case of the Smith-Faris Company against the Jameson Memorial Hospital, and R. T. Withers Sons Company, returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $5,077.34.

There will be no loss to the Hospital Association as the money was held out on the amount due Withers, when the dispute over the contract arose.

Among the objections raised by the defense was one of the right under the law of the plaintiff to file a mechanic's lien against a public institution. Judge Hildebrand held that the hospital is not a public institution within the meaning of the mechanic's lien law.

During the trial of the case Superintendent Dr. Wayne W. Bissell outlined the requirements for admission to the hospital. He said that no person is refused admittance to the hospital unless suffering from a contagious disease, or violently insane. The state does not allow hospitals to take contagious disease cases and there are other institutions for taking care of the insane.

No person except those mentioned are refused admittance to the hospital. After a patient has been admitted inquiries are made regarding to his or her ability to pay. If it is found that they are able payment is required. If they are not able to pay they are accepted as charity patients. There are usually from 15 to 18 charity patients in the hospital all the time.

Another question involved in the case was the status of the Boldt Construtcion Company which was held to be that of agent. The Bodlt Construction Company made the heating and plumbing contract with the Withers Company, and the Withers Company with the Smith-Faris Company who were held to be sub-contractors.

Work To Check Spread Of Fever

Only one suspicious case was found in the Arthur McGill school today when the school nurses examined the youngsters for signs of scarlet fever. The one case is not a definite scarlet fever case but a slight rise in the temperature decided the nurses upon sending the youngster home.

The situation seems to be in control today. Every primary student is examined by Dr. Ralph Campbell and the school nurses and every precaution is being taken to check the spread of the disease.

Police Arrest Alleged Gamblers

Police last night shortly before midnight visited the Pierce and Bartsch poolroom on East Washington street, and arrested a group, whom the police say were gambling. Jess Ackworth was dealing cards, the police say, and he was charged with being the keeper of a disorderly house and fined $25. There were eight playing and usinng metal chips. They were fined $5 each. Three others caught in the place were discharged.

SECOND U. P. MEN WAGE NEW CONTEST

A rousing attendance contest which closes in mid-November today had members of the Men's Bible class of the Second U. P. church, County Line street, primed to boost their attendance figure still higher next Sunday morning. The class membership has been doubled in four weeks.

Don McGrew is president of the class and Attorney Wylie McCaslin is teacher.

BEGGAR ARRESTED BY CITY POLICE

Robert Eakin was arrested Thursday after he had made a call at the parish house of St. Joseph's church in which he sought to beg from the housekeeper at that place. He was discharged this morning by the mayor with a warning to cease his activities along that line.

Council Adopts Ordinance To Abate Delinquent Penalty

Members of city council in session at the City Hall today adopted an ordinance which provides for the abatement of the penalty on 1932 delinquent city taxes if the taxes are paid before December 1, this year. On December 1, the city treasurer will present to council a list of the unpaid 1932 taxes.

At present there is a four percent delinquent penalty. The unpaid taxes recently were reported at about $221,000. Many persons have been paying their taxes in installments. The motion to adopt the abatement ordinance today was made by Councilman Genkinger, seconded by Davies and the measure was adopted unanimously.

Peculiar Suit Is Called For Trial

Fred White Asks $15,000 From Wesley W. Seidel As Result Of Fall

The case of Fred White against Wesley W. Seidel of Ellwood City for $15,000 damages as the result of a peculiar accident, is on trial before Judge James A. Chambers at county court today.

Seidel employed White to haul some hay to the Seidel barn on 6th street, Ellwood City. The barn is located on sloping ground.

When White arrived with a load of hay, William Edie, an employee of Seidel, assumed to give directions, as to how the wagon was to be backed in order to unload the hay.

From his position on the hay load White could not see to back the wagon properly. Edie assumed to give directions. As a result of these directions, so White says, he backed the wagon too far, causing it to upset.

White was thrown from the top of the load, striking a portion of the wagon. His nose was broken, the jaw bone broken, and the roof of his mouth was split, in addition to other injuries. He was unable to do any work for a long time.

White claims the accident was caused by following the instructions of Edie, an employee of Seidel. Edie denies that he gave wrong instructions.

Expect Big Crowd At Party Rally

State Republican Party Candidates To Be Here On Saturday

Court Room number one of the Lawrence County Court House is expected to be filled to capacity Saturday evening when part of the state ticket of the Republican party will be present and address a mass meeting.

Hon. Charles A. Waters, now Auditor-General, and a candidate for State Treasurer will head the speakers list, with Judges William M. Parker and Joseph Stadtfeld on the program. Local candidates will be present also.

The state candidates are making a tour of the state but on Saturday evening the group will be split to accomodate a similar meeting in Mercer county. United States Senator James J. Davis and Hon. Frank E. Baldwin, candidate for Auditor-General will address that mass meeting.

The men who will speak here will spend the night in New Castle, rooms having been reserved for them in the Castleton.

To Have Parade At Westminster

Homecoming Day Arrangements Being Made For October 29

WAYNESBURG IS FOOTBALL CARD

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 21—A parade of students and alumni will mark the annual homecoming day at Westminster College on Saturday, October 29. The parade, to be led by the college band under direction of Professor Donald O. Cameron, will start at 1 o'clock.

A silver loving cup, donated by Profesor Ben Euwema, head of the English department, will be given to the best group in the parade.

The program for homecoming really starts on Friday night, October 28. Three one-act plays will be presented by college casts under direction of Professor A. T. Cordray in the Little Theatre. Following this, a bonfire and outdoor pep rally will be held on the athletic field.

Saturday at noon there will be luncheons at fraternity houses and dormitories. The alumni-student parade will start at 1 o'clock. A cross country meet with Grove City will start at 1:15. The football game with Waynesburg starts at 2:30.

Alumni dinners will be held by fraternities and in the dormitories at 6 o'clock. At 8 o'clock in the evening, a reception will be held at Browne Hall. The homecoming party in the gymnasium will start at 9 o'clock.

Mrs. Hoover Sends Acknowledgement

Last Saturday afternoon, the four local florists, belonging to the Floral Telegraph Delivery Association, delivered by messenger to Mrs. Hoover a beautiful bouquet of Chrysanthemums with their compliments.

They are now in receipt of a letter of acknowledgement sent by the direction of the president's wife to the New Castle F. T. D. A. The letter follows:

Gentlemen:—

Mrs. Hoover has asked me to thank you for your thought in sending her such a beautiful bouquet of Chrysanthemums.

Yours sincerely,
MILDRED HALL,
Secretary.

ARREST YOUTHS FOR DAMAGE DONE SCHOOL PROPERTY

Informations have been sworn against five local youths on charges of breaking and entering and damaging school property. The arrests were made by Robert Stewart, special school officer on Wednesday, October 19.

George and William Seiler and Edward Eppinger were arrested on the charge of breaking in and entering Arthur McGill school.

DRIVER SAVES CAT BUT BREAKS ARM

(International News Service)

SUNBURY, Pa., Oct. 21.— Nelson Coup's compassion for a cat cost him the loss of his arm.

Coup was driving with several companions when a cat suddenly ran directly into the path of their car. In order to avoid striking the animal, Coup swung his car over an embankment and it overturned.

His arm was so badly injured that amputation was necessary.

Yggdrasill was the name given in Scandinavian mythology to a tree which was conceived as binding heaven, earth and hell.

President Hoover Spikes Another Campaign Tale

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21. — A telegram in which President Herbert hoover declared that for 15 years he has not had "a dime's interest outside the United States of any kind," was made public here today by C. C. Teague, head of the Republican campaign in Southern California.

The telegram addressed to Teague read:

"I have your telegram stating that Democratic agents, despite all proof to the contrary, are still circulting misleading statements through their fields that I have been opposed to relief of the oil industry because of my supposed interest in foreign oil and that I opposed the tariff on oil. This is usual type of politics. I have not in fifteen years since I entered public service had a dimes interest outside the United States of any kind, including oil. I supported the oil tariff in revenue bill and signed that bill. Without support I gave I do not believe it would have received sufficient vote from non oil sections to have been carried.

(Signed)
"HERBERT HOOVER."

Catarrhal Deafness And Head Noises

If you have catarrhal deafness, or head noises, caused by catarrh, or if phlegm drops in your throat, secure proper treatment at once. Sprays, salves and inhalers may bring you a temporary relief, but permanent results can only come from a constitutional treatment that will expel the catarrhal poison from your system.

Get from Eckerd's, of New Castle, Inc., or your druggist 1 oz. of Parmint (Double Strength). Take this home and add ¼ pint hot water and a little sugar. Take a tablespoonful four times a day; clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy, mucous stop dropping. All sufferers from catarrhal deafness or head noises need the simple, pleasant, inexpensive Parmint treatment.

Remodeled Schools Serve As Dwellings

Abandoned School Houses Are Staging Comeback Throughout State

Throughout the state of Pennsylvania, the "Little Red Schoolhouse" abandoned in the steps of progress resulting from consolidation of school districts, is staging a comeback, but not as a school house.

Scores of former schoolhouses throughout the state are now known as "the Smith bungalow' or the "Jones cottage" or "Farmer White's tenant house."

These unusued buildings with their surroundings are being bought for a few hundred dollars and with a little remoleding, become permanent homes or summer cottages.

Playgrounds, long pounded by the feet of children have become gardens, and vines climb over porches to empty belfries atop low-pitched roofs.

A few of these old school houses now are homes for families, but there are many which have been closed up during the past few years, and which are still unused.

Hoover Far Ahead In Student Poll At Oberlin College

OBERLIN, O., Oct. 21—Despite leanings toward Socialism, Herbert Hoover is Oberlin College students' choice for the presidency.

This was revealed today when 1,230 ballots, cast in a secret straw poll, showed Hoover received 844 votes, or 69 per cent.

Norman Thomas, Socialist, ranked second with 274 and Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic nominee tarailed with 102.

AUTO STOLEN FROM EAST NORTH STREET

Alec Temenski of 413 Carl street reported to the police last night that his automobile, a Hudson bearing Pennsylvania license 4P964, had been stolen from North street from a point near the North street school. It was still missing this morning.

Youngstown And Toledo Granted Loans From R. F. C.

Youngstown Is Given $256,750 And Toledo Draws $144,000 From Corporation

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Two emergency relief loans for Ohio were granted Thursday by the Reconstruction Finance Corp.

Toledo was granted $144,000 to cover its needs for this month, while Youngstown and Mahoning county were loaned $256,750, the loans totalling $448,750.

YOUNG PEOPLE OF COUNTY WILL CONFER IN CHURCH

There will be a county young people's conference, arranged by Miss Alice Grimes, secretary of young people of the Lawrence County Sabbath School association, held in the First Christian church Saturday, November 5. This meeting will be a follow up of the city-wide evangelistic services and will be county-wide.

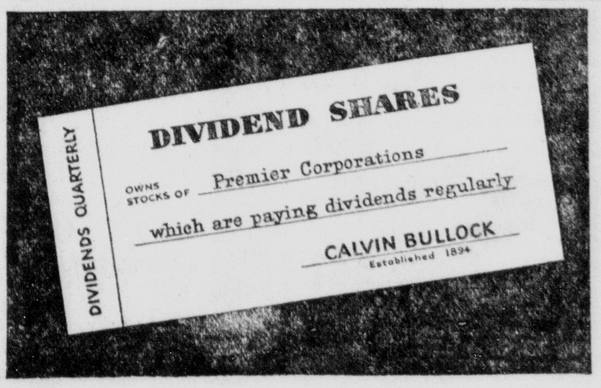

There will be discussion groups, out of town speakers and plans made for definite work among the young people during the coming months.

The theme of the conference will be "Personal Evangelism".

There will be afternoon and evening sessions with a banquet at 6 o'clock.

London Unemployed Quelled By Police

(International News Service)

LONDON, Oct. 21—The menacing cry of "royal parasites" was heard today as police, amid a hail of stones and bottles, went into action in the East end to quell a new series of unemployment riots.

The disorders occurred at the arraignment of several persons arrested for creating a disturbance when Prince George, youngest son of the king and queen, opened a new wing of the Queen Victoria seamens rest in the poplar district yesterday.

The bulldog has existed as a distinct race in England for many centuries.

CORN ON STALK IS REPORTED MOULDY

(International News Service)

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Oct. 21.—For the first time known in this section, corn on the stalk is reported to be mouldy. Marshall Grove, a well known farmer, made the report to the Farmers Cooperative Company. It is believed due to the excessively hot weather followed by heavy rains.

KIWANIS 'TRIAL' SCORES HIT WITH DINNER AUDIENCE

Clubmen's Wives Share Fun At Castleton Program; Cast Applauded

The Kiwanis club's own high court of hupeels" with its three black-robed, grave- visaged judges solemnly heard the libel case of Secretary L. C. Mantz vs. the Kiwanis Program Committee, a howling sensation among Kiwanians, after the court and courtroom audience had vanished a delicious turkey dinner was enjoyed in The Castleton last night.

"Ladies' Night" was what they called it, for the clubmen entertained them.

But once the dinner was over the trial came up, and Alderman L. C. Mantz, the plaintiff, stormed his legal languages before the dining room bar of justice. Judges, attorneys, clerks, jury and all sat tense as the club's notorious scandal hearing opened. Mantz claimed the program committee "framed" him—and the picture or whatever it was in the frame, he thought wasn't complimentary.

Let's announce the cast now, and then you can imagine the impartiality, the fair-dealing that everyone received at the trial:

The judges—Hon. Gilbert Long, chief; Hon. Sam Lewis, associate, and Hon. Lou Wallace, associate.

The plaintiff—L. C. Mantz, alias "Elsie" Mantz.

Plaintiff's attorney—Julius Blaha, Esq.

Clerk of courts—L. F. Royston.

And last, but not least the jury—Mrs. Sam Lewis, Mrs. Wm. Hanna, Mrs. Julius Blaha, Mrs. L. C. Mantz, Mrs. Clem Parker, Mrs. Edgar L. Thompson, Wm. Hanna, Clem Parker, Lee Marvin, Loyd Strayer and D. O. Potter.

They concluded, in their verdict, that a grand jury probe might help.

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. Lee Allen, whose 17th wedding anniversary occurred yesterday, and Mrs. Clement D. Parker, whose birthday it happened to be, the club extended beautiful gifts of flowers.

The club's grievance committee, with Gilbert A. Long, Sam Lewis, and Lou Wallace as members, and Julius Blaha, L. F. Royston, C. A. Bolen, Thomas Blake, James Mayberry, Jacob F. Perelman and Harry Frank as aides, prepared the hilarious evening's program.

At the close of the trial the clubmen planned a trip they intend to make to Pittsburgh on Wednesday evening, October 26, when 36 clubs of two Kiwanis districts will gather for a dinner-program. Probably 20 will go from here.

Sam Lewis and Lee Marvin led the songs last night with Harry Hammond at the piano. Robert L. Meermans pronounced the invocation before dinner. President C. M. England was toastmaster.

Three Moro Outlaw Leaders Wounded By Island Constabulary

(International News Service)

MANILA, P. I., Oct. 21.—Three Moro outlaw leaders, Mohamed, Ismaludin and Imula, were wounded as fifty Philippine constabularymen re-attacked score of the savage outlaws on the island of Jolo today, according to reports which reached here.

The constabularymen were led by Capt. Leon Angeles, in charge of the officers in the Sulu Archipelago and who was under orders to "wipe out" the outlaws who had ambushed and killed 21 constabularymen in a surprise attack last week.

MISS REIS IS SCOUT REGION'S NEW SECRETARY

New Castle Girl Scout Commissioner Is Elected To Four-State Office

A signal honor has been bestowed upon Miss Elizabeth Reis, of East street, New Castle, by the national organization of Girl Scouts. She has been elected secretary of Girl Scout Region Three, which includes Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia and Virginia.

Miss Reis, who has been serving for the past several years as commissioner to New Castle Girl Scouts, was elected to fulfill the unexpired term of Mrs. William Walker, of York, Pa., who had resigned because of ill health. The term of office will come to a close next May, at which time elections will again be conducted by the region.

The local commissioner, now a regional officer, will preside at regional conferences and regional meetings. Miss Reis has also been appointed a member of the regional camp committee.

This is the first time a New Castle person has ever held office in the four state region.

San Francisco Fire Damage Is Set At $150,000

Shipbuilding Plant Consumed By Flames, Oil Company Property Threatened

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct., 21.—A four alarm fire on the lower San Francisco waterfront early today razed the G. W. Kneass shipbuilding plant, destroying approximately 200 boats in the factory and several craft offshore. Damage was conservatively estimated at $150,000.

Flames were confined to the plant though two nearby structures were damaged. For the time the fire threatened to reach the nearby Gilmore Oil company plant and the Union Works.

Origin of the fire was unknown.

Christian Church To Begin Revival

Follow Up Of City-Wide Evangelistic Services Will Continue For Two Weeks

When evangelistic services for the First Christian church were planned last spring, it was decided October 1 would be the tentative date, but when arrangements were made for the city-wide services, the plans were postponed a while and with the Sunday morning service a series of two week's meetings will be held.

Dr. G. S. Bennett, who has thrilled audiences with his exposition of the Bible truths, both from his pulpit and as teacher of the community Bible class the past three years, will be the speaker, and it is anticipated that large crowds will fill the church each evening to hear him expound the scriptures.

The singing will be an interesting feature of the services, as a chorus of thirty voices will be heard, with Sam Lewis as the director. Solos by various singers of the city will feature each service.

These meetings will continue for two weeks only and the subjects which Dr. Bennett will speak on will be published in Saturday's News.

HALLOWE'EN STORIES AT PUBLIC LIBRARY

Hallowe'en stories will be recounted to New Castle children Thursday, October 27, at the New Castle free public library.

Miss Alice Joyce, children's librarian, will be in charge of this first story hour. Stories will begin immediately following school hours.

Fit Up 'Shoeroom' For School Supply

County's Relief Center Will Receive New Order; Calls Abundant

Preparations were in progress today to stock a room in the county's relief headquarters opposite the court house with 1,200 pairs of husky school shoes which will keep many a black mark out of class attendance rolls this winter.

County Welfare Officer M. B. Hogue, director of relief distribution, said his office will handle the shoe donations. For several years the office has maintained a shoe department for children.

Hopeful of additional funds to carry along the county's welfare activities, Hogue expressed the belief that the shoe order would answer in a large degree the pressing poor department calls.

The shoe bids are due on Saturday.

HORSE KILLED BY AUTO

Frank Shoaff, Savannah farmer, had the misfortune to lose a horse as the result of its being struck by an automobile driven on the Savannah road on Wednesday evening. Apparently the horse had gotten loose from the stake to which it was tied and strayed alongside the road in the vicinity of the Savannah church. Joe Butera of West Pittsburg, driving a car from the direction of the hollow frightened it and it is thought the car lights blinded it so that it ran across the road directly in front of the car. As a result of being struck its leg was broken and it was necessary to shoot it. The auto was considerably damaged as the result of the collision but was able to proceed toward New Castle under its own power.

Cook Has Operated Cars For 35 Years

Earl Cook has been employed with the New Castle Street Electric railway since 1897,, or 35 years. At present he is operating a car on the Croton avenue route. He has been in service the longest of any local operators.

Figuring that he has worked eight hours a day, not counting time he may have been off duty, he has put in 2,920 hours a year or a total of 102,200.

It is said that the average "run" of an operator here is about 80 miles a day which means that during the 35 years he has worked aboard cars which travelled 1,022,000 miles.

POULTRY DEMONSTRATION MEETING

H. H. Kauffman, Poultry Specialist from State College will discuss "Killing, Dressing and Grading of Poultry for Market" at a demonstration on the farm of F. W. Ferris near New Wilmington, Tuesday, October 25th at 2:00 p. m.

This demonstration will include both chickens and turkeys. Any person who grows or handles poultry on the market will be interested in this discussion.

PREPARE GROUND FOR EARLY SPRING GARDEN

Preparations for the early spring garden may be made now.

As the late crops are harvested or destroyed by frost, rye may be broadcast and raked or harrowed into the soil. Wheat may be substituted for rye. The rate of seeding is two bushel an acre, a peck for 5,000 square feet, or a quart for 700 square feet.

Even though the rye merely appears above the ground before freezing weather, it will make quick growth in early spring and thus produce valuable organic matter. The extensive root system will conserve the nitrogen supply of the soil and prevent erosion during the winter.

PIT SEED POTATOES TO RETAIN VITALITY

Seed potatoes should be handled and stored with care to preserve their vitality and insure a good stand of vigorous plants the following season. Mechanical injuries, storage rots, and shriveling, which often result from storing in warm house cellars, should be guarded against since these factors lower seed vitality.

The ideal storage for seed is a well insulated storage or underground cellar where a uniform temperature can be maintained. Pitting of seed when properly done has proved equally good for preserving vitality. Pitting or burying of seed as successfully practiced by Pennsylvania growers is not difficult. It requires adherence to a few simple rules and practices.

Pitting should not be attempted when there is any probability of continued warm weather. Wait until cool weather of October or November.

Locate the pit on a slope to facilitate drainage or otherwise provide for turning away excess water. A northern slope or northern exposure from buildings or wood lot is preferable. This will avoid thawing out of the pit and aid in holding a uniform temperature throughout the winter and especially in the spring when slight changes in temperature will result in sprouting.

A long narrow pit is preferable to a deep or round pit, as it will permit more rapid cooling of the tubers. A pit of 20 feet long and 5 feet wide will hold 100 bushels of seed. The base or bottom of the pit may be level with the ground or lowered by furrowing and shoveling out 6 to 10 inches of dirt. Both methods are used successfully.

When the pile is ready for burying, a layer of hay or straw should be placed over the pile by beginning around the base and building toward the top. This layer of straw or hay protection should be 2 to 3 inches thick when compressed by 5 to 6 inches of earth. No additional covering need be made until the first layer of earth is frozen 2 to 3 inches deep. A final covering is then made and may consist of an additional layer of straw and 6 to 10 inches more earth, or a layer of 12 to 15 inches of earth without the additional straw.

BURN GARDEN TRASH TO DESTROY INSECTS

Insects that have spent a busy season in the garden and field are now ready for their annual rest. Many of these will make their winter home in garden trash, weeds and brush and next spring their descendants will start their destructive work promptly.

This program will not go according to schedule, however, if the gardener or farmer gathers this refuse and burns it. This will make it hot for the insects and most of them will not live to tell their grandchildren about the big fire.

Among the insects which can be disposed of in this manner are borers, plants bugs, Mexican Bean beetles and chinch bugs.

RECOMMENDED PRACTICES GROW GOOD POTATO CROP

Lawrence County farmers had good yields of high quality potatoes despite adverse weather conditions, where recommended practices were followed.

Good seed and proper spraying always contribute to good yields, and this year with extremely dry weather prevailing most of the season, leading growers attribute a large part of their success to high humus content of the soil.

Where disease-free seed was planted on ground which had just grown a good legume crop and where the potato vines received 10 to 12 sprays applied at regular intervals, yields of 300 or more bushels per acre were harvested. Where poor seed was planted on poor soil, stem and rot and grubs caused heavy damages. Omission of sprays and improper spraying resulted in early death of the tops. Under these conditions poor yields of inferior potatoes were the result.

CLAIMS HEN LAID TWO EGGS IN HOUR

W. R. Fox of North Beaver township tells of an unique occurrence recently, which he vouches for the truth. Mr. Fox claims that a White Leghorn pullet from his flock laid two eggs in an hour's time.

The pullet had been injured about the head, Mr. Fox says, and he separated it from the rest of the flock. It was noticed on the nest and an egg was secured. In about an hour's time it began cackling and another egg was secured from the nest. Mr. Fox avers that no other hen had access to this particular nest.

Identify Body Used In "Hoax" For Insurance

State Police At Altoona Learn Name Of Alleged Victim In $10,000 Plot

(International News Service)

ALTOONA, Pa., Oct. 21.—State police today identified the body used in an alleged hoax to collect a $10,000 insurance policy carried by Berdie C. Fetter, 50, as that of John Vernon Oakes, who was buried Oct. 1 in Reformed cemetery at Yellow Creek, Bedford county.

Identification was made, police said, a short time before authorities returned here with Fetter, who was arrested in Youngstown, O., where he is alleged to have "hidden out" while the hoax was being consummated.

Three men and Fetter's wife were under arrest here in connection with the case. Police said Oakes' body was "planted" in a house which had burned to the ground and later identified by Mrs. Fetter as the body of her husband.

A mortician discovered the purported plot when he found the body already had been embalmed while preparing it for burial.

Over 700 Women And Girls To Meet Together Wednesday, November 9

A supper and program in which over 700 women and girls of the New Castle Young Women's Christian Association will take part, will take place in the Association's Green Room and gymnasium on Wednesday evening, November 9.

This event, which is being sponsored in celebration of the 25th anniversary of the organization of the National Y. W. C. A. board, will be under the general chairmanship of Mrs. DeLace Cole, according to announcement of this morning.

Every club and every class in the local Association will bring their own tureen dinners and will decorate their own tables. A prize will be presented to the group having the most unique table decorations. Memberships of clubs, classes, etc., number over 700. Tables will be arranged in both the Green Room and gymnasuim on the third floor of the building.

Programs will be presented by the different groups, centering around the idea of the organization of the national board twenty-five years ago.

Will Not Pass Collection Plate In Congregation

(International News Service)

FARRELL, Pa., Oct. 21.—Free marriages, free funerals, and the abolition of the regular Sunday collection.

That policy was invoked here today by the Rev. S. A. Renicks, pastor of the Cavalry Baptist church. Its object is to aid the working man who "stays away from church because he is unable to contribute."

Rev. Renicks explained the abolition on the ancient custom of passing the collection plate was done in order to meet prevailing economic conditions.

In its place, a basket will be placed in the church vestibule for voluntary contributions.

New Castle And Ellwood To Play Tonight

Highly Trained Grid Teams Await Kickoff At Taggart Stadium

Lawrence County Seat Host To Strong Ellwood City High Team Tonight

Game To Start At 8 O'Clock —"Whitey" Nickum Out Of Game With Injuries

Pa Newc is wearing his best smile tonight. The old fellow is genuinely happy. The prodigal son is returning to the fold, meaning a highly trained and strong Ellwood City High football team. New Castle High school, with Pa Newc's aid has arranged an appetizing football dish for the occasion. The kickoff is set for 8 o'clock. The doors will open at 6:30 p. m. In event of a cool crisp evening Taggart Field is going to witness the largest crowd of the season. There hasn't been a setting like this for the past six years. The game which is about to be played has been talked of over every table in Lawrence county at some time or other. It's a natural. The "Big Red Hurricane" is ready. The Blue and White Ellwood team strains eagerly at the leash. There is bound to be happenings worth the price tonight. The six-year wait is ended.

Popular Chord.

The officials of New Castle high and Ellwood City have struck a popular chord in the arranging of this game. It is games like the one about to be unfolded tonight that puts the football spirit into the fans. Ellwood City and New Castle clashing across the white-barred field. This announcement is just like an electric shock. It means something a little out of the ordinary.

New Castle's "Red Hurricane" is highly polished. The last bit of oiling was done last evening under the lights. The final word has been given out by Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh. He now leaves the game up to the 11 stalwart huskies who will prance out there on the green carpet of the spacious New Castle stadium to test their luck with "Ganzy" Benedict. Ellwood City got in their final licks at rehearsal at New Castle last evening just prior to the time when New Castle went to the stadium to practice. A friendly gesture this. New Castle allowing Ellwood City to practice under the lights. Friendly feelings were further cemented when Coach "Ganzy" Benedict learned that he could take his boys under the lights for a dress rehearsal.

Bridenbaugh Worried.

Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh is worried about this game tonight. He feels that New Castle is going to be lucky to shove over a touchdown on this scrappy hard hitting Ellwood team. Ellwood City has arranged a dangerous aerial attack, and New Castle will have to keep all eyes on the stars for the passes that fly in the night. Ellwood's line is just as big as the "Hurricane's". Now, do you see why Bridenbaugh is worried? The New Castle huskies were shown no mercy this past week. They put in long hours at the practice field, at the tackling dummy, at signals. They are ready.

New Castle, to be sure, has won five games. What of that? Just kick any one prop and most of the houses will fall. That's just like football. New Castle is hard hit tonight. Old Man Jinx was around to pay the New Castle team a visit and when he left, "Whitey" Nickum, the sensational speed boy and triple threat man, was nursing a badly bruised leg. Nickum will not be in the lineup tonight. Either Lane or James will replace Nickum. Uram, the human dynamo, will be at the one halfback post. Uram is all set for another large evening.

Kominic At Fullback.

Kominic will be at the fullbacking post. Walter is a line cruncher extraordinary. He just sticks his head down and plows through, brick walls or board fences no exception. Tommy Rambo, the clever blocking halfback and signal barker, is going to have his hands full tonight. Rambo has been the big reason for the success of the runs made by Uram, Lane, Nickum and company. You can't take this credit away from Rambo, he is in the game up to his ears.

Captain Mike DeCarbo is in the best of condition with a couple of store teeth to replace the ones knocked into the mud by Washington high last week. DeCarbo is anxious for the game. He is one of the best linemen in the district.

Record, Blah!

There is no use dusting off the records of the two teams which tangle tonight. Records mean about as much to this contest as artificial snow to an Eskimo. And that's absolutely nothing.

No matter what kind of a season each team has had. What of it? New Castle is not going to live on their reputation. They are going into that battle tonight to make a new reputation. Ellwood City is coming here with a mediocre record in the first few games. They stopped and buried the remains in the Cono—Conoquen—well, the river then; and when they appear at Taggart field they will be spotless. They want to begin all over again. They figure on getting the proper start this evening.

Both Teams on Edge.

Hopes are running high in both camps. The last New Castle-Ellwood City game was a 13 to 0 victory for New Castle. That naturally makes the Ellwoodians want to win. New Castle lost to Ellwood City in 1925 at Lincoln field, Ellwood. New Castle has a few things to think about. All of which just goes to show you that you are not going to see just another football game tonight, but a contest in footballery that will rival any you have had the pleasure to see for years.

If the weatherman is kind he will send a cool crisp night. If it should rain, the game will undoubtedly be played on Saturday afternoon. The setting is complete, according to Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner. Taggart field will likely see the capacity crowd of the year.

Remember the kickoff is at 8 o'clock. The doors open at 6:30. There are still plenty of good seats left.

Lineups For Tonight

Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh of New Castle high and Coach George "Ganzy" Benedict of Ellwood City high today announced the starting lineups for the game tonight, together with the numbers and names of the reserves likely to enter the game. The kickoff is set for 8 o'clock. Taggart field is the scene of the game which renews relations between the two teams.

Toukamon Has Kayoed 10 Foes

Fought Great Fight With Couette Before Joining Dunn

BOJARSKI-DURIS 'PEP' UP TRAINING

Remember Marshall Couette, the Utica Kid? He's the featherweight who gave several nice boxing lessons to opponents at the bowl. However he isn't in Cleveland now and the reason, it is said, is none other than Marty Toukamon, Jefferson county, O., junior lightweight.

It appears that not so many months ago they met at the Cleveland Equestrium. Marshall floored Marty a couple of times and went so far as to close one of his eyes.

The referee walked to his corner and told Marty's seconds to toss the towel skyward. Marty couldn't see things like the referee, dashed across the ring and pointing to Couette, remarked:

"C'mon, you haven't got me licked yet!"

However, the fight was stopped and Couette who then was under the banner of Jimmie Dunn won the fight but Marty's courageous action won over Jimmie Dunn.

"Right there and then I wanted that kid."

"The next day Couette left for Utica and Marty came to the gym" writes. "He asked if he could join my stable. I told him he could fill Marshall's place if he could learn to move around like him."

So today Toukamon holds a full membership in the Jimmie Dunn brigade having knocked out Don Gonzales then trimmed Don Bernard. He then beat Joey Kushner who is next to Jimmy Vaughn in Cleveland.

Dunn sent him against Tiger Kid Walker twice which resulted in two draws and Danny O'Keefe of Cincinnati dropped two bouts to Toukamon.

Beat Ferrando.

Patsy Severo and Toukamon fought a good fight and the decision went to the Meadville boy. After that he took on and beat Frankie Talemento and Joe Ferrando.

Ferrando is now a member of the New York stable of Dan Morgan which shows that he was worth something pugilistically or Dan wouldn't be his pilot.

Marty has had 24 fights. Of the two dozen he lost two as stated, one to Couette and the other to Severo. He has nine knockouts and ten decisions and a draw to his credit.

He's going to oppose Young Terry here next Wednesday night. The fans here know the Akronite. Terry has milled about 78 times. He has turned in 24 knockouts, dropped about a dozen decisions and will give Marty a real test.

The six round scrap scheduled between Homer Gray and Jack Moke will not go on as Homer asked for a sum that the World War Veterans sponsors of the show didn't believe could be paid.

They're going to put on another bout in its place and in the meanwhile Frankie Bojarski is pepping training up at Erie and Mickie Duris is hustling at Cleveland.

The fans throughout western Pennsylvania have commenced focusing their eyes on the coming main bout as the winner will probably get a "big shot" as a reward for winning.

Billy Frengel is training to take on Bearcat Wright. Both have good followings and as it is a return scrap each is anxious to turn in a victory.

Pete Boy came down from Ellwood City yesterday to speak of Al Hefferan as follows: "I'm going to be in tiptop shape and win from the Oil City welterweight if condition means anything."

No Delay In Hunting Season

Recent rains have drenched Pennsylvania forests and there will be no delay in opening the season according to a report emanating from the governor at Harrisburg. The governor intimated recently that the season would have to be set back owing to the long drouth.

Titans Leave For Olean, N. Y. For Game With St. Bonaventure

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 21—Coach John Lawther, 24 members of the Westminster College football squad, Trainer Jack Hulme, and student managers left here this morning at 9 o'clock for Bradford, Pa., where they will spend the night. The Titan party will go from Bradford to Olean, N. Y., tomorrow morning where St. Bonaventure College will be played Saturday afternoon.

Coach Lawther indicated when he left that he may start the Titan second team against the Bonnies. The first team players made such a good showing against Grove City last Saturday that Lawther believes they deserve a rest. Then, too, the important homecoming game with the great Waynesburg Yellowpackets is carded for next week, and Lawther wants the regulars in shape for this contest.

If Lawther follows his plan of using the Titan second team, Andrew or Patterson will call signals. Patt will play fullback, Young will play right halfback, and Hunneke or Wilhelm will play left half.

Bloker will be used at center, Turner and Burry at guard, Straw and Brown at tackle and Lubuono and either Patterson or Wilhelm at end.

The Titans will probably leave Olean immediately after the game Saturday and arrive in New Wilmington late Saturday night.

Captain Craig Lost To Shenango Team For Today's Game

Shenango Township High School's football team will battle Bessemer this afternoon minus the services of Captain Craig, center of the Shenango team. In the last game Craig twisted a muscle in his foot and has been out of the game all week. The injury is a painful one and may keep him on the bench the balance of the season.

Craig has been a tower of strength to the Shenango team all season. On the offensive he has been steady in ball passing and once the ball was snapped he was into the opposition. Many of the advances through the center of the line this year can be credited to his plunging tactics and his absence will be noticed.

D'Ambrosia will start at center this afternoon for Shenango and fortunately for the team he is not inexperienced. Coach Ed. Raney has used him considerably this season and with a little seasoning he is expected to come through in good shape.

The team was scheduled to leave the school building at 2:30 o'clock in uniform and expected to arrive at the Bessemer field just before game time which is scheduled for three o'clock. Today's game will be the hardest test of Shenango's strength this season, thus far.

Regis McAuley Is Back In Uniform

Regis "Red" McAuley, former New Castle High grid star now the varsity quarterback at John Carroll, who had the misfortune to break a bone in his shoulder in the opening game of the season, is back in uniform and may get in the game next week it is indicated. The shoulder has mended nicely.

McAuley will indulge in light workouts next week and Coach Vince may decide to use him. Mt. Union and John Carroll are playing tonight at the Cleveland Stadium.

Layden Changes Duquesne Lineup

Dukes To Meet West Virginia Wesleyan, W. & J. Playing Xavier At Cincinnati

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 21—A pair of elevens from the state of West Virginia will provide the opposition for two of three outstanding football clashes involving district schools on the weekly Friday night program.

Duquesne University brings to an end the nocturnal ventures in the game with West Virginia Wesleyan under the lights at Forbes Field this evening. Now beyond the midway mark of scheduled games, the Dukes will play their remaining contests during the daytime.

Three new faces will appear in the Duquesne's starting line-up, Ben Pawlina, right halfback, and Sil Zaninelli, fullback, who started in nearly all previous encounters are to be replaced by Dick Nussbaum and Art Strutt, respectively, on the line. Weihl will get the call.

The Mountaineers from West Virginia University pilgrimage to Detroit where they tackle the powerful Detroit University tonight. The chances of victory for the Titans in their third meeting with Coach "Greasy" Neale's charges were dealt a hard blow when Chris Schearer, varsity halfback, suffered a broken wrist thereby forcing him into retirement for the rest of the season.

A Washington and Jefferson squad, 32 strong, will make the jaunt to Cincinnati, O., where the Presidents oppose Xavier University under the lights tonight. Bob Deacle who has scored all of the Presidents points to date has been given special attention in practice for this game.

Hockey Taken Up By Shenango Girls

Hockey has been added to the sport calendar of Shenango township school. Under the tutelage of Miss Frances Mills, girls' hockey teams are being formed and Thursday afternoon was the first day the squad was out on the practice field in uniform.

Miss Mills is a former star player for the Slippery Rock State Teachers College girls' hockey team and believes the sport is an excellent one for developing muscle and sportsmanship qualities. For some time she has been endeavoring to get a hockey squad started and has finally succeeded.

If the plans of Miss Mills go through, a varsity team will be selected at Shenango and challenges directed at any other girls' hockey team in the county.

Union Team Is Idle Saturday

Union High school football team will not play Saturday they have an open date on the schedule. Union's next game is with the strong Zelienople High team at Zelienople on next Saturday. Coach Boyd will have his Union team out late every night next week. This week has been a "breather" for the boys.

Union hopes to win all of their remaining games, which includes—Zelienople, Bessemer, Shenango and Sandy Lake.

Shenango And Bessemer Clash

Meet In Lawrence County Class B Grid Game At Bessemer

Bessemer and Shenango high school football teams are scheduled to clash at three o'clock this afternoon at Bessemer in a Lawrence County Class B school game.

Shenango has won all their games but Bessemer has not been so fortunate having one of the several tilts.

During the week Coach Fredericks had endeavored to brace his line for a severe line attack and gave plenty of attention to Bessemer's aerial attack.

Shenango has a heavy line and a battering backfield in Arnold Seetch and Bruno while Bessemer depends upon Percic, Plevnic, Benson and Marshall's playing today to beat Shenango.

Grove City Goes To Weynesburg

Contest In Tri-State Conference At Waynesburg On Saturday

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Oct. 21.—Sharing honors with the powerful University of Pittsburgh eleven as the only two undefeated teams in Western Pennsylvania, the Waynesburg College football team will be "on the spot," here Saturday, October 22, when Grove City College is played in a Tri State Conference game which will be a feature of the annual Home Coming Day exercises at Waynesburg.

With a victory over Penn State college as their outstanding achievement of the season, the Yellow Jackets also have triumphs over Muskingum, Bethany and Slippery Rock Teachers College to their credit and have scored a total of 60 points to 12 by their opponents.

REDUCED now $9.75

SUITS—TOPCOATS—OVERCOATS

Cramer's Clothes are now better than ever before—better woolens are used—better linings—better tailoring—But in spite of this the price today is the lowest in our history. Even though prices are now much higher—in some cases as much as 25% higher—we were fortunate in covering our requirements at the old prices, and as long as possible we will continue to sell these excellent Suits, Topcoats and Overcoats at $9.75.

BUT HURRY—DO NOT WAIT

The response to the new Cramer price has been tremendous. Old customers who know Cramer quality as well as new customers who are buying down to a budget have bought 2 and 3 garments at a time. While we have prepared the most extensive line in our career, it is certainly not inexhaustible. So come at once for best selections.

Good Football Games Carded For Saturday

Pitt And Ohio State Playing At Pittsburgh, Carnegie Tech Meets Notre Dame

COAST TITLE IS AT STAKE

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—The symbolic castaway, who was to choose the ten best books for a wholly imaginary life on a desert island that did not exist, was taking the line of lesser resistance, after all. He should have stayed where he was and tried to pick the ten best football games from tomorrow's schedule. Here, the championship in two major sectons, the Pacific Coast and Big Ten, trembles in the balance; the fate of two more in the East and Southwest is up for a possible revision; the South and Big Six have at least two climax games each and the Rocky Mountain conference, not quite ready yet for its big moments, is nevertheless sending contender against contender.

However, if I was to be castaway in a lonely press box, where anybody who belongs is not permitted to be bothered, except by those who do not, my course would be clear.

Coast Teams Clash

First of all I'd take the Stanford-U. S. C. game at Palo Alto, the piece de resistance of the day, the month and perhaps the season. The way things have gone out there, this game almost inevitably must payoff with the coast championship and, according to the records of recent years, the championship of the coast is often the championship of all.

The next choice would be Northwestern versus Purdue, the game that apparently is going to decide whether Michigan is to rule the Big Ten jointly or alone.

Pitt-Ohio State

Having witnessed this pair, the next step would be to see two more in Rice versus Texas and New York University versus Colgate or Pittsburgh versus Ohio State. The first named couples two bellwethers of the southwest, with another, Texas Christian, apparently due for a breather with Austin, although frankly I'm a little too far away to know about that. N. Y. U. and Colgate are two of the East's unbeaten leaders. A third, Pittsburgh, reaches outside the section to take on the Buckeyes who can't win in the Big Ten and, therefore, are in a position to make the East look worse than it probably is.

Tech And Notre Dame

Notre Dame and Carnegie Tech would be the next choice, not because Tech figures too seriously with the team that has scored 135 points in two games but because a Tech team never saw the day it didn't have a chance with Notre Dame. It probably will be a football game until the Irish scoring machine gets up its momentum.

To round out the chosen ten, there are Tulane and Auburn, Kansas and Nebraska, Vanderbilt and Georgia, and Chicago and Indiana. The latter will be Stagg's first game in the Big Ten and, owing to the recent developments in the matter of his forced resignation, a lot of people will be trying to root him in. His team looked good in its tie with Yale but Indiana has done better than that. It has even looked good aganst good football teams.

Small Verdict Is Awarded To Scanlon

In the case of M. J. Scanlon against the City of New Castle for a balance alleged to be due for construction of the Liberty street sewer, which was tried at court before Judge James A. Chambers, the jury brought in a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $1,150.

Scanlon sued for around $17,000.

BALTIMORE AND OHIO POLICE EXPRESS THANKS

The New Castle police department is in receipt of a letter from Thomas L. Johnson, captain of police for this district of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, in which the latter expresses the appreciation of Baltimore and Ohio police department for the co-operation extended it on last Saturday when President Hoover and party stopped in this city.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Some time this afternoon the story of what happened at Bessemer will reach the city. On past performances indications are that Shenango will win from Bessemer. The Shenango team has not yet been checked this season while Bessemer has chalked up only one victory. The other games have resulted in either defeats or a tie. But Bessemer is hoping to turn back Shenango this afternoon.

There have been some great Finnish athletes but few of them have taken to boxing. In fact if recollection serves accurately Marty Toukamon is the first American of Finnish extraction to have boxed in this city. His ruggedness was amply demonstrated a few nights ago after Vito Mangine rolled him for a count of nine. He got up from the floor to score later with a technical knockout.

B. J. Biondi, deputy of Commissioner Harvey J. Boyle reports that there is a new judge of boxing bouts in the city, Lou Brady having taken out a license a few days ago. It is not yet known if he will officiate for the first time next Wednesday night. Brady has witnessed a great many bouts. He travels to distant cities to see scraps and according to Biondi should be well qualified to judge winners and losers.

Jimmie Long of the Sun-Tele had several paragraphs concerning Paul Reider, captain of the Pitt Panthers in his column yesterday. He wrote: "Captain Paul Reider has not featured in any of the Pitt games to date, as far as the headlines were concerned, but he really played a major part in the victory over Army. Reider was out of commission when the Panthers met West Virginia and Duquesne, and he did not play much more than half time against the Cadets, but in one important play he was very valuable."

Long added that the Army ends gave Pitt trouble all afternoon, and the various men assigned to take them out found the task a difficult one. "When Pitt went into the double wing back formation, however, Reider got a crack at the bothersome end, and he kept that gentleman so tangled up that Warren Heller breezed right by and continued on for a touchdown. It was Reider who made the 54 yard run possible. He does a lot of things that do not appear in the accounts of Panther games," he wrote.

The comment continues to the effect that "Reider, a sensational pass receiver, has had difficulty in getting into the open. Against the Cadets usually he was obstructed by some husky soldier assigned to that task by the Army strategy board, and by the time that Paul could wiggle loose the pass would be either grounded or knocked down by a defensive man. The Panther captain figures on getting loose some day, and when he does the chances are at least even that he will find a football, thrown by Heller, hanging in the air above his head."

Mushball is not for young men but baseball is. Mushball has gained in popularity because it is cheaper. Baseball has lost some of its appeal because equipment costs so much. This was the import of a speech made last night by Vitus Conti, well known in athletics here when Knights of St. Vitus, Church Mushball league winners were feted at an Italian dinner last night.

It was a speech to mushball champions and represented Mr. Conti's feeling. He did not tell the difference in cost of balls and bats but it is well known that there is a difference. It is also only too well known that with the depression here and the youth of the country wanting to play something clean, something that will build a strong body and develop brains the youth must turn to that which they can afford.

He pointed out that economical reasons has helped to make mushball popular. But he warned that it will hurt baseball "and do you no good." By this, it is believed, he meant that mushball would be better for the older persons than the young, sturdy boys which compose the championship team. He said a young man who became a good baseball player had a chance to get through school. No such future lays in mushball, he said.

Annual Scout Field Meet Here On Saturday

Boy Scout troops from the north district of the county will join forces Saturday afternoon at the George Washington junior high athletic field, weather permitting, for their annual outdoor field meet.

In case of rain the meet will be automatically postponed one week.

The troops have been asked to be on hand at 2:30 o'clock. A program of field events will be run off, including contests in water boiling, knot tying, signalling, and fire by friction and dressing races will be seen, with a "fireman's carry relay" race, using eight-scout teams to take them across the line. Troop V-15 won last year with V-37 coming in second.

Teams from these troops are eligible to compete: New Castle V-1, 2,3, V-5, 6, 7, V-10, V-13, V-15, 17, V-18, -37 and 55; New Bedford V-1, New Wilmington V-1, Plaingrove 1 and East Brook 1. A number of these troops have been practicing, and good times should be made. Neighborhood commissioners will serve as judges.

Ellwood High Eleven Ready For Game At New Castle Tonight

Big Delegation Will Follow Team To Taggart Stadium For Game

Team Is Inspired To Play Greatest Game Of Season Tonight

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 21.—Ellwood High and New Castle High will meet on the gridiron tonight to continue their friendly rivalry for six years. It will be a gala night for athletic supremacy after a lapse of fans of both cities. Friendly competition and acquaintences will again be renewed.

Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh's latest creation which has been dubbed the "Red Hurricane" of New Castle High will endeavor to play the blue and white representatives off their feet in an effort to maintain their coveted goal of an undefeated eleven and ultimately a W. P. I. A. L. championship.

On the other hand the Benedict men are invading the county seat inspired and full of hope. It will be a fighting and desperate team that the Bridenbaugh men will face Friday night, a team that when fully aroused can reach great heights. Tradition will be one of the principal factors in the battle. The many past years of keen competition will drive both teams to their best. A victory to either team despite the outcome of any previous games, means more to them than a perfect season.

For the first time Ellwood High broke into the winning column last week when they turned back Grove City 13-12 in the last period, since the opening of the season. The locals were facing a difficult schedule this year, with three early hard games arranged in a row. Ellwood was beaten by each of these three, Midland, Butler and Beaver Falls after a hard battle. Two of these games appeared to be scoreless ties, but in the last few minutes of the final quarter a surprise attack to an unexpected quarter brought victory to the visiting teams.

Until last week Ellwood's offensive failed to click. All this week Coaches Benedict and Ferrare have worked on this, until even they admit that an improvement has been apparent. An entire new attack will be launched against the Bridenbaugh machine. Much deception will be evident as Ellwood strives desperately to upset New Castle. The local's are expected to take to the air quite frequently.

Ellwood supporters are pinning their hopes on the blue and white's powerful line whose work has been outstanding this season. It averages about 170 pounds in weight and with the exception of Joe Navolic all are tall. In Captain Welsh and Barnes, Coach Benedict has two capable ends who are expected to stop New Castle's fine end runs and reverses. Big Red Vogt 196 pound tackle is well respected by his opponents and is one of the fierce and hardest fighting men on the squad. This is his third varsity year and his work in the past two years has been brilliant. By his great height and weight he has been a nemesis to off tackle plays on his side of the line. On the other side of the line will be Pratt, another capable man. Mike Paal will hold down one guard position but the other at present is a battle between Navolio and Demas. The latter is a new find and may get the call. Last Saturday Demas showed that he was a too valuable man to keep on the bench. He is exceptionally clever in running interference and on the defense. Ronald Glover has proved himself a real pivot man. He is accurate passer and a demon on the defense.

In the backfield will be Chuck McCloskey, Ott, Vandrello, and Luxenberg. The latter two are Ellwood's chief ball carriers. Vandrello is a triple threat man and is a clever broken field runner. Milton Luxenberg who has not been working out so hard the past two weeks, is classed with Bill King, now of W. & J., as one of the best fullbacks ever turned out here. He is one of those hard, smashing, and pile-driving types whose feet represent pistons. Luxenberg has been bothered by a bruised shoulder but is reported to be fully recovered and rarin' to go. McCloskey and Ott are interference and defense men who occasionally pull off a few tricks or so with the pigskin tucked away under their arms.

The Benedict men concluded their workouts last night under the floodlights of Taggart Stadium in order to become more familar with the field and the glare.

Big pep meetings were held in the Lincoln auditorium Thursday and Friday. Talks were given by Coaches Benedict and Ferrare, Prof. J. Ellis Bell, and Joseph Smith, a prominent local merchant who represented the citizenery.

Local followers hopes have reached a new high ebb when the information was given out that "Whitey" Nickum, star New Castle ball carrier may not be able to play Friday because of a badly bruised leg. Physicians have ordered him to rest. Nickum will be replaced by the colored sensation, Lane.

HOSPITAL NOTES

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 21.—Admitted Thursday: Steve Keul of Border avenue James Main of Wurtemburg.

Discharged: Mrs. John Modliszewski of Wampum, Mrs. Charles Evans of Sixth street and John Lysohir of Sharon.

Complete Plans For Big Event

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 21.—Final arrangements for the annual congregational Hallowe'en party of the M. E. church were rapidly coming to a head when the planning committee held its monthly meeting at the home of Grace Porter last night.

The affair is to be staged next Friday night in the basement of the church and according to the plans announced it will be the biggest event held in the church this year. The committee was encouraged to make more elaborate plans by the success of last year's affair.

Also, the committee at this time announced that a play will be sponsored by the Friendship Circle class in the Lincoln auditorium on November 3. The play is entitled "Kleptamania" and will have a cast of twelve prominent local people. A little side feature for children between acts will be given.

Mrs. Herbert Habert Is Club Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 21.—An interesting meeting was held by the members of the Thursday Evening Bridge club at the home of Mrs. Herbert Habart on the New Castle road last night. Mrs. Lloyd Thomas was a special guest on the occasion.

The evening was made the more merrier by the presence of clever Hallowe'en appointments. Bridge at two tables occupied the attention of the guests. At the close of the games Mrs. Norman Pack and Mrs. Paul Moon received the club prizes. Mrs. Thomas was presented with a guest favor.

Lunch was served at a later hour by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Fred Woods, Mrs. Thomas, and Miss Zelda Twentier. The next meeting will be held in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Norman Pack on Foch street.

Semi-Monthly Club Has Fine Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 21.—With delightful hospitality Mrs. E. C. Wright entertained the members of the Semi-Monthly Bridge club at her home on Foch street last night.

Two tables of bridge in the pleasant surroundings of seasonal tones occupied the attention of the guests for the greater portion of the evening. The awards at the close of the games went to Mrs. John Dunn, Jr., and Mrs. James Hereford. The events of the evening came to a close with the serving of a luncheon by the hostess.

Mrs. Berwick Barton will entertain the club in two weeks at her home here.

K. Of P. To Make Annual Pilgrimage

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 21.—All Knights of Pythias in the district will make their annual pilgrimage to the K. of P. home in Harmony this evening. Members from all over western Pennsylvania will participate in an interesting program. A fine delegation from Ellwood City, Wampum and New Castle will motor there. Special music there will feature at this time.

Pythian Sisters Meet Thursday

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 21.— The Pythian Sisters of Alma Temple received a delightful surprise at their regular meeting last night in their rooms of the K. of P. Hall with Deputy Grand Chief, Mrs. Jennie McCandless of New Brighton paid an unexpected visit. She was accompanied by several members from the New Brighton and Butler temples.

Following the customary business meeting a fine masquerade party was held. The place had been carefully prepared for this occasion with Hallowe'en colors and fantastic scenes.

November 3 is the date of the next meeting. Mrs. Emma VanGorder and her committee are in charge of the luncheon this time.

CLASS PARTIES

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 21. — On Wednesday evening another party in observance of the Hallowe'en season took place when the members of the Jolly Juniors class of the Wurtemburg U. P. church held their annual masquerade. At an early hour the members and guests arrived, garbed in weird costumes of every description and they were surrounded in a setting that further expressed the seasonal idea.

Twenty-three were in attendance and the teacher, Miss Irene Falen, had charge of the many stunts and games. At a seasonable time an appropriate luncheon brought the activities to a close.

The same evening the Young People's class of the Knox Presbyterian church met at the Stepeh Keul home with Dorothy and William Aiken being hosts for the occasion. At a late hour a tempting luncheon was served by the hostess.

Miss Jeanne Hill of Fountain avenue, Ellwood City is thoroughly enjoying a week's stay in Painsville, Lakewood, and Cleveland.

Six Grand Parents Visit Youth At Home On Thursday

Unique Visit Is Made By Relatives To Young Ellwood Boy

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 21.—Little Jack Butler, one year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Butler of Park avenue was fortunate enough yesterday that his mentality wasn't fully developed yet or he would be at a loss to know whether his grandparents were great grandparents.

Yesterday he was visited by six grandparents and great grandparents all at the same time at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John McKim. To make matters still more confused the little child was informed that he had still six additional grandparents and great grandparents, making a total of 12.

The visitors yesterday at the McKim home on Park avenue were Mr. and Mrs. William Christopher and Mr. and Mrs. John Butler of Beaver Falls and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Butler of Wampum, and also Mrs. Edward Cochrane of this city. This gave the little lad two grandmothers, two grandfathers, and one great grandfather and mother, present at the same time.

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 21.—A fine masquerade party was held by the King's Daughters Bible class of the U. P. church in their rooms last night. An excellent turnout featured the affair.

The customary business meeting inaugurated the events of the evening. Plans for holding a sauerkraut supper in the near future were formulated at this time. Following this a fine social time with games, contests, and a luncheon were enjoyed.

The hostesses for the evening were Mrs. George Burrows, Mrs. H. C. Pickel, and Mrs. James Liebendorfer. The next meeting of the class will be held on November 17.

Mrs. Charles Speaks At Zelienople Club

ZELIENOPLE, Oct. 21. — Mrs. Catherine M. Charles, Librarian of Ellwood City Public Library was the principal speaker Wednesday afternoon at the regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Community club. This was Library day for the club, and the meeting was in charge of the Library committee, of which Mrs. H. B. Beighley is chairman. Mrs. Charles had for her subject at this time, "The value of non-fiction." She made an excellent address, giving much valuable information to the members of the club about books and reading.

DANCE HONORS NEWLYWEDS

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 21. — As a courtesy to Mr. and Mrs. William Hinkle of North Sewickley, whose wedding was an event of Wednesday, October 12, and occurred at Wellsburg, W. V., a large circle of relatives and friends of the couple held a dance at the Frisco armory Wednesday evening. Two hundred people were in attendance.

Following the congratulatory period the evening hours passed quickly with round and square dancing being the principal pastimes. Mr. and Mrs. Hinkle were presented with many lovely and serviceable gifts for use in their home, to which they responded in a pleasing manner.

SEW FOR NEEDY

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 21. — In connection with the regular weekly meeting of the Ladies Guild of the Knox Presbyterian church, the ladies of the community, numbering thirty-five, met in the church rooms yesterday and spent the day in sewing for the needy of the district. Mrs. Frank Kliendenst is general chairlady while Mrs. Carl Mathews was appointed in charge of the sewing machines and Mrs. Joseph Ford in charge of the handwork. The ladies will meet each week at the church.

Friendship Circle Assembles In Dunkle Home For Hallowe'en Party Thursday Evening

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 20.— Mrs. Edward L. Dunkle of 737 Clover avenue, pleasingly received associates of the Friendship Circle of the First Methodist church in her home Thursday evening for a Hallowe'en party.

The guests arriving in gay colored costumes representing different characters, were greeted in rustic surroundings with pumpkins, goblins and other appropriate ornaments being arranged giving a mysterious and wiered atmosphere.

After unmasking, games and contests were enjoyed prizes being given to Mrs. Robert Johnson, Mrs. Linblade, Mrs. Lackey and Mrs. Turner.

Ae delicious lunch was served at a late hour by the hostess assisted by the Misses Lillian Lipply and Elma Houk. The latter two and Miss Louella McHattie, a special guest, attended from New Castle. Covers were arranged for approximately twenty-eight. A short period of chat and music concluded the evening.

Mrs. Derry Porter Pleasing Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 21.—Mrs. Derry Porter was a pleasing hostess to the members of the Priscilla Kensington club at her home on Fourth street Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Fred Henderson and Mrs. Will Henderson were special guests on the occasion. Flowers and Hallowe'en appointments added to the beauty of the occasion.

The day was enjoyed in a delightful manner with games, contests and chat. A delectable menu was served by the hostess at a late hour. The club will meet again in two weeks with Mrs. C. V. Patton on Division avenue.

J. A. P. Members Meet Thursday

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 21.—Mrs. Dwight Lloyd was a charming hostess to the members of the J. A. P. club at her home in Knox Plan last evening. Five members were present at the time.

Five hundred was the chief diversion of the evening, at the conclusion of which the hostess, assisted by one of the members, served an appetizing luncheon.

The date and place of the next meeting is indefinite and will be announced at a later date.

BABCOCK AUXILIARY

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 21.—The Jesse L. Babcock Auxiliary of this city held its regular meeting at 8 o'clock last night in the Post Office building. Following their regular business meeting with the president presiding, an interesting social hour was enjoyed. The next meeting will be held on November 17 at the same place.

John Cotton, an eminent Puritan divine, was known as "The Patriarch of New England."

Ten members and two special guests enjoyed a meeting of the W. A. G. club Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. W. H. Mauermann, 109 East Clayton street.

The home was beautifully decorated with fall flowers. The group spent the evening playing 500.

Guests were Mrs. Herman Alexander and Mrs. Floyd Hayes.

On Thursday evening, November 17, the club will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Harry Sherman, Leasure avenue.

CHURCH DIRECTORY

The glass-encased church directory in the Baltimore and Ohio station is not much use directorially speaking, but it is interesting to read the names of leaders of religious organizations which you have not heard for several years. At the time the directory was posted Rev. J. N. Croxall was pastor of the Mahoning Methodist church. Kathryn Wilfrey was general secretary of the Y. W. C. A. Ensign Toplis was in charge of the Salvation Army.

HOLY NAME RALLY

Local people, members of the Lucy's and St. Margaret's congregations, will take part in the annual rally of the Holy Name Societies of the Catholic Parishes of New Castle and Lawrence county Sunday evening, October 23. Included on the committee are Jake DeFonso, of St. Lucy's and Matthew Jordan, of St. Margaret's. Joseph Diffley of this ward is in charge of publicity.

AT RICH HILL

Rev. D. C. Schnebly of Newell avenue preached another sermon at the Rich Hill Presbyterian church, near Volant, Thursday evening, in connection with a special series of meetings held there by Rev. C. M. Rohrbaugh.

BARBATA-FERRO

Miss Mary Barbata, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Barbata, of 202 West Wabash avenue, and Raymond Ferro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Ferro, of 429 Beaver street, were married at St. Margaret's church Wednesday. They were attended by Virginia Rainey and Joseph Matteo.

PLAN ANNIVERSARY

Date of the organization of O. R. C. auxiliary will be commemorated Thursday afternoon, November 3, by an anniversary dinner in the city hall, according to plans made at a business meeting of the auxiliary Thursday.

New officers will be elected on November 3 also. The committee in charge of dinner arrangements consists of Mrs. C. W. Thompson, Mrs. Fred Flowers and Mrs. Joseph Frew.

CAR DAMAGED

The automobile of William Weitz, West Madison avenue, was damaged to some extent when it was driven into a ditch on the Mt. Jackson road Wednesday after being crowded off the pavement.

LIBERTY WINS

The Liberty bowling team won two out of three games Wednesday night with the West Aliquippa team at West Aliquippa. Total finals were: Liberty 2767 and Aliquippa, 2704.

PARK WORK CONTINUES

Work of planting elms in the seventh ward park is continuing probably to be completed this week. The ground was prepared for the planting on Wednesday and the new trees were set in Thursday.
